

BLOODY BATTLE WITH FOUR BANK ROBBERS
U. C. CO-EDS ARE OFFENDED

CO-EDS SHOCKED
BY THE JOKES IN A COLLEGE BOOK.

Lively Row at the State University
Over the Publication of "Pelican" —Wheeler Says O. K.

BERKELEY, October 24.—It is possible that the editors of "The Pelican," the humorous paper published by a coterie of gay University of California students, may be called before the Faculty Committee and ordered not to print such risqué jokes in their future publications, as appeared in yesterday's issue.

A ripple of astonishment went across the campus yesterday afternoon when the book was read and, after scanning a few pages, some of the co-eds threw it aside, declaring that it was unfit for any girl to read.

Those who take the initiative in upholding the moral tone of the University declare that a censor should be appointed to read the copy of the publication before it is allowed to go to press again.

The issue of the "Pelican" which has caused such a stir is the second that has come from the press this year. What the second book lacks in the merit as shown by the first, is made up by unusual epigrams.

Among the jokes that are causing trouble are the following:

"Doctor, what degree will I get if I group on child study?"
Doctor—MA, I suppose.

The Prof.—William, what is a virgin forest?
Bill (with no hesitation)—One what's never been axed.

"I have hooked thee a ring,"
Said the cannibal king,
And the maiden all blushing replied:
"Oh, Bill, what a shame
Now 'tis summer again
Surplus clothing I must lay aside."

There once was a sculptor called Phidias
Whose statues were perfectly hideous
'Till he made Aphrodite
Without any nightie,
And we had to take something to stiddy us.

Writer—She threw herself on his throbbing bosom and—
Narration Prof.—Now, why throbbing?
Explain yourself?
Author—Well, wasn't he under high pressure?

"And so you have been vaccinated?"
"How do you know?" exclaimed the startled maid.

"A slightly sprained ankle then," he rejoined he with an unmovable smile.

"This is your beginning," she sighed, breathing with difficulty.
"Big inning," he said, and raised the remaining arm to turn down the feeble gas jet.

Her—Now, Mr. Keggs, don't you deny it? I just know you are a rare wit."
Keggs (groping)—"Eer, how?"
Her—Yesterday I heard brother Andrew tell father that you told some raw stories

ROBERT WILCOX DEAD.

EX-CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATE FROM HAWAII DIES IN HONOLULU.

HONOLULU, October 24.—Robert Wilcox, ex-congressional delegate from Hawaii, died today of consumption.

Wilcox was the Home Rule candidate for sheriff and was in the midst of an active campaign. Over-exercion brought on hemorrhages. There is great mourning among the natives, with whom, owing to his Hawaiian blood, Wilcox was very popular.

FELL TRYING TO BOARD TRAIN.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., October 24.—Robert McIntosh, a Scotchman, while under the influence of liquor, tried to board the Fair Oaks local near Twenty-first and R streets this morning and fell under the wheels. Both of his legs were cut off below the knees and he received other injuries from the fall. He was taken to the county hospital. He will probably die.

FIERCE BATTLE WITH FOUR BANK ROBBERS.

BURRTON, Kas., October 24.—After a determined chase and a bloody battle, the bandits who looted the bank at this point were captured last evening on an island in the Arkansas river and lodged in the Newton jail.

The men gave their names as James Bell, aged 25; George Olsen, aged 28; E. H. Johnson, aged 38; Thomas White, aged 24, and Frank Harwood, aged 26.

Johnson is badly wounded, being shot in the head, breast, arms and legs. The men claimed they were never in Burton but W. L. Dalley, a merchant of Burton, identified them as the men who came to his store Thursday evening and purchased some fruit. The bandits had only $18 in their possession when searched. Partier are now going over the trail for the money, which is supposed to have been buried.

Friday, in the battle between two of the pursuers and three of the robbers, Harry Westmascoote, who was carrying a double-barreled shotgun, fired at the bandits and in addition to wounding one, knocked a revolver from his hands. Friday afternoon, 150 citizens formed at this point and following a trail of blood and bloody rags across a plowed field, finally located the robbers on a wooded island in the Arkansas river, 15 miles from Burton. A party of thirty heavily-armed men led by the assistant cashier of the bank, L. A. Shiever, then proceeded to wade across while the rest of the pursuers covered the island with guns and revolvers. Seeing the overwhelming odds against them the robbers waived a white handkerchief and crawled from the sandpits which they had dug, and surrendered. It is thought these men may have been the ones that held up the eating-houses at McFarland recently. The men claim they are ironworkers from Kansas City and Joplin.

ERWIN
RIGHTS.

Will not Resort to Habeas Corpus in the Court.

He Proposes to Fight the Charge on Broad Grounds.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 24.—The case of the United States Government against ex-Postal Inspector Erwin, on the charge of defrauding the United States Government, which was closed by both sides, several weeks ago, before United States Commissioner Hancock, was reopened this morning before the same United States official, at the instance of United States District Attorney Woodworth.

The case was then continued until next Friday morning at 10 o'clock, at which time both sides will be allowed to introduce additional evidence.

In the preliminary examination which has been reopened, the Government represented by District Attorney Woodworth, contented itself with producing a certified copy of the indictment and the bench warrant of the United States Court in Washington, holding that that was all that was required to compel Erwin's presence in Washington for trial.

This idea was earnestly contested by Samuel Knight, Erwin's attorney who went thoroughly into a defense, but into arguments and citations to prove that no showing had been made and no authorities had been introduced to warrant the holding of the accused for trial in Washington.

Where, therefore, Deputy Attorney Woodworth asked this morning for the reopening of the case for the introduction of oral testimony, Attorney Knight improved the opportunity to make the most of the efforts which he had already put forth before the Commissioner.

In connection with his motion, Deputy Attorney Woodworth said that he desired to introduce upon the stand as a witness for the Government D. S. Richardson, an employee of the post-office in San Francisco, and Inspector Wayland.

It was mainly upon the testimony of Richardson before the United States Grand Jury in Washington, that Erwin was indicted, although it was in the company of Richardson that Erwin went to Washington in the interest of the Postal Device Company.

Mr. Knight said that what he had anticipated in the preliminary hearing had already taken place. He had, he said, asked the District Attorney at that hearing, whether or not the latter had anything more than the copy of the indictment and the bench warrant to compel Erwin's commitment for trial.

The District Attorney had replied that he had not and that he considered those sufficient for the purpose mentioned.

Mr. Knight then stated that he had shown that the proceedings in the matter should be after those required by the State laws, but that the Commissioner had seen fit to characterize the defense as technical.

Mr. Knight further contended that the present move was most unusual and that it was within his power to object to the request of the District Attorney. He also asserted that he could secure the discharge of the prisoner on a writ of habeas corpus.

At the same time, he declared it was not the defendant's purpose to stand upon that ground.

He (the defendant) would waive his rights in the premises and agree to the re-opening of the case on one condition and that was that he, (the defendant) would be allowed to answer testimony that might be adduced by the government. Commissioner Hancock said that that condition would certainly be granted.

Richardson will testify next Friday morning.

AMBASSADOR FOR CONFERENCE
OF AMERICA, BISHOPS, OF REPUBLICANS TO MEET.

SIR HENRY DURAND WILL REPRESENT ENGLAND AT WASHINGTON.

CLERGY MUST BE FAMILIAR WITH POLITICAL AND ECONOMICAL QUESTIONS.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE WILL NAME THE TIME FOR CONVENTION.

LONDON, October 24.—The Associated Press is able to announce the appointment of Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador at Madrid, as Ambassador to the United States, to succeed the late Sir Michael Herbert. Announcement of the appointment, however, will not be made until Monday, when the King will duly sign his commission.

In addition to his diplomatic success in Persia, India and Afghanistan, Sir Henry is an expert shot and has had many advantages with big game while hunting in India, where he was closely connected with General Lord Roberts, (now field marshal) serving as his political secretary during the famous Kabul campaign.

In Spanish diplomatic circles surprise is expressed at Sir Henry's withdrawal from Madrid.

Sir Henry, who was born in 1850, is a son of the late Major General Sir Henry Durand. He carried in 1875, Ella Reeve, daughter of Teignmouth Sandys, esq., of the British civil service. Sir Henry was appointed to the British privy council in 1901. He is the author of a life of his father, Sir Henry Durand, and of "Helen Trevyan."

GRAND REVIEW OF

FORT RILEY, Kan., October 24.—A grand review of all the troops in camp was held this morning on the flats south of the Republican river. The scene from the hills was beautiful. DEATH
CAME TO A BRIDE.

Married Yesterday and Passed Away This Morning.

Mrs. Ellen E. Sheakley
Was Only a Bride for a Few Hours.

Mrs. Ellen E. Sheakley, a bride of but a few hours, passed away at 3 o'clock this morning, at the residence of Dr. J. T. Kitchings, 506 Clay street. Mrs. Sheakley was formerly Mrs. Ellen E. Pinkney, the wife of Benjamin Pinkney, a prominent rancher of San Joaquin county.

A year ago Mrs. Pinkney and Arthur M. Sheakley were engaged and the wedding day was set.

The bride and groom had planned a happy celebration of the nuptials, but before the time arrived Mrs. Pinkney was stricken with the illness that brought her to her deathbed. The groom prospective was called East on business and his fiancée was removed to the Pablosa Hospital, where she submitted to an operation for cancer. Afterward complications developed which led the attending surgeon to become gravely alarmed. Dr. Kitchings, in charge, had the patient removed to his residence after she had been advised that recovery was hopeless.

With much difficulty Mr. Sheakley was located by police efforts in Milwaukee. He was notified of Mrs. Pinkney's condition and he hastened to Oakland, arriving early this week. Convinced after his arrival that his betrothed could not long survive, the unhappy man expressed the desire to wed the woman of his choice before death should separate them.

Rev. E. E. Baker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was called yesterday afternoon, and, with death staring them in the face, the two were united in marriage.

From that hour, Mrs. Sheakley became weaker and at 3 o'clock this morning expired. The husband was prostrated with grief, feeling that it was hard to be thus separated when they had planned such a happy future.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock from Taylor's Undertaking Parlor, 1211 Clay street.

SAUSAGE MAKERS
REFUSE TO WORK.

CHICAGO, October 24.—Fifteen hundred sausage-makers at the Union Stock Yards struck today. Work was stopped in the sausage manufacturing departments of the big packing houses and it is declared the purpose of the union is to tie up the industry in each of the nine packing centers of the country. No violence attended the strike. The men failed to report for work and the packing companies did not try to operate the sausage departments with non-union men. There was no picketing by the union. Acting in accordance with a plan for a peaceable campaign, decided upon when the strike vote was taken, the strikers remained away from the yards.

AMBASSADOR FOR AMERICA

Sir Henry Durand left London yesterday for Madrid, where, at his own desire, he will personally announce his promotion.

The selection of Sir Henry to succeed Sir Michel Herbert, was a surprise to most people here, chiefly because he has never had any official connection with Washington.

The Associated Press learns that Sir Henry has frequently expressed a great liking for Americans and a desire to go to the United States. His promotion comes more or less in the ordinary course of diplomatic changes, but one of the strongest recommendations which appealed to Foreign Secretary Lansdown was Sir Henry's reputation of being an excellent lawyer. A singular qualification had much to do with the late Lord Pauncefote's selection.

The new Ambassador will speedily bid farewell to the Spanish court and proceed to the United States without delay.

Lady Durand is not very strong, but it is hoped that the American climate will benefit her health and enable her to completely fulfill her duties as hostess of the British Embassy.

The daughter of Sir Henry Durand is much liked in Madrid society. The son is an officer in a London regiment. Sir Henry Howard, the British minister at The Hague and Luxembourg, and Sir Nicholas O'Connor, the British ambassador at Constantinople, were among others considered for the post, but Sir Henry Durand was finally selected as the most suitable.

While British minister to Russia, Sir Henry was regarded in St. Petersburg as being the most astute diplomat Great Britain ever sent to Tcheran.

WE ARE RECOGNIZED.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The significant and important feature of the selection of Sir Henry Durand as British ambassador at Madrid, as ambassador to Washington, is the fact that it is the first time the British government has sent an ambassador directly to Washington. Heretofore, Washington has been looked upon as a post ranking at the front of embassies, hence it has been the custom to promote a minister to the ambassador here. So the action of the British government in this case marks a growing sense of appreciation of the importance of Washington as a diplomatic post.

REPORT ON THE POSTOFFICE.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WILL READ IT BEFORE IT IS MADE PUBLIC.

WASHINGTON, October 24.—The Postmaster General at 1:30 this afternoon delivered to the President the report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow on the postal investigation.

WASHINGTON, October 24.—Postmaster-General Payne remained with the President only a few minutes. As he left the executive office he said, in response to inquiries:

"Yes, the Bristow report has at last been placed in the hands of the President. Of course, we did not consider it at this meeting but probably later in the day we shall take it up in part. Attorney General Knox will be present to consider it."

The report is very long. It contained 110,900 words—about 80 columns in an ordinary newspaper. In addition to the report proper, there are 500 exhibits, all of which are referred to in the report. The average length of the exhibits is five typewritten pages or about 2000 words. The exhibits contain, therefore, about a million words. Published in the form of the ordinary government document, the exhibits alone would make 2000 printed pages. No time has been fixed yet for the publication of the report, but it will be given to the public as soon as practicable. President Roosevelt will go over it very carefully, and when he makes it public, is likely to supplement it with some contents of his own.

BOXING

GEORGE BROWN WOULD NOT FAKE.

MAKES CHARGES AGAINST THE SEQUOIA CLUB MANAGERS.

Oakland, Oct. 23, 1903. Sporting Editor TRIBUNE—Dear Sir: In reply to the charges made in an Oakland paper, by Mat Riley, match-maker of the Sequoia Club, I have this to say in reply: I refused to box Mike McClure because he wanted to fake the go; he down and split; the purse, I agreed to box him on condition the fight to be square, winner take all. He would not do this and I positively refused to participate in a fake bout as I have not done so yet and do not intend to start now. He wanted me to box several other men, among whom was Dave Barry who weighed 10 to 20 pounds more than I did. I did not feel as though I should fake him on. The proposition was then made to me to box the Dixie Kid he agreeing to let me stay the limit and the purse to be split. I did not want to be mixed up in an affair of this kind and would not go on. I made all the requirements of the club for my bout with Sullivan, and I don't think it right to be roasted for refusing to meet any man Riley wishes to run me up against and for refusing to participate in a fake bout. Hoping you will right me with the sporting public. I am, respectfully, GEO. BROWN, W. O. A. S.

THOSE WHO WILL PLAY. THE MEN WHO WILL MAKE UP CARDINAL TEAM IN BIG GAME.

The annual Stanford-Nevada football battle is in progress on the Stanford campus today. At 3 o'clock the teams lined up. Though during the last week the cardinals have seemed threatened with the epidemic of indifference and laziness, yesterday's last practice game changed all that, being an example of what fast, snappy football should be. Owing to the still evidence of weakness in the line the offensive work is better than their defensive. It is now near enough the date of the big game to be fairly safe in predicting the cardinal representatives to meet the blue and gold men. Clark is playing steadily at left end and as a sure as possible of playing in the final line. Sprout, center, is playing well. Thompson is making good at left guard and it is certain he will face the mighty Oregon. Nevada today has an advantage in the absence of Hanoverman, Stanford's big center, whose injured ankle may prevent him from participating in the intercollegiate game three weeks hence. In case of such a deplorable occurrence, Nevada's prospects are not bright. In knowledge of the game and experience, would play center. W. Dole, the cardinal's heavy line-backer and speedy end runner, has recovered from the injuries to his knee sustained in the game with Fort Baker, and appears behind the line today as well as with the team meeting the blue and gold eleven. Weller, Chalmers and Schofield all have a chance for full back. Chalmers' advantage in experience and his spectacular line-bucking make him a strongly favored candidate, unless Weller can be taught to go into line in form to use his enormous weight and strength to the greatest advantage. At left-half Dave Tarpy and M. P. Hyde are parties to the sharpest competition.

FAMOUS TURFMAN HAS RETURNED.

NEW YORK, October 24.—John O. Keene, the Kentucky turfman and trainer who was suspended by Russian turf officials for nine months because of the alleged use of "dope," has returned from St. Petersburg. Keene was accused of using a mysterious decoction to make his horses win and because of jealousies among owners he was told to leave. He carried his case to the highest authorities and was told to resume his training at Wark in next May. He will spend a few months in Kentucky and will sail for Russia in February. His record of 116 winning races is the best ever known of in Europe.

INDIAN TEAM IS LAST CRUISE OF LIGHT. THEY ARE GREATLY HANDICAPPED BY VARSITY IN WEIGHT TODAY.

Today the Chemawa Indians of Oregon and the University of California eleven will meet on the Berkeley gridiron. The Chemawa's coaches are very hopeful, saying that the Berkeley giants will be forced to meet some very swift and clever players. The Indians are very light in weight, so much so that it seems they can't make a match at all for such giants as come into the Varsity team. However, they are little and active, and results are sometimes surprising. Joe Schilt, one of the Redskins' centers, playing left tackle in the line, weighs 212 pounds. This fact and his previous experience and knowledge in all things football makes him a strong feature of the visiting team. Saunders, a veteran full back, weighs 190 pounds and is the only other strong man among such first-class teams as those of the Stanford Institute and Multnomah Athletic Club, but whether he will make good when put to rival Overall as a punter and goal-kicker is another matter.

TWO PERMITS ARE GRANTED.

The Board of Police and Fire Commissioners met yesterday afternoon and granted two permits for boxing during the month of November. The first one is to the West Oakland Club and entitles them to hold a boxing entertainment of six amateur bouts on the evening of November 2. The second is to the Reliance Athletic Club for a professional contest on the evening of November 17. This contest will allow more closely on the heels of the contests to be held next Tuesday evening than would have been the case had the club been enabled to hold their original date, October 13. Because of other publicistic dates, which were prior, the club was compelled to wait until the 27th. It is their intention to have all of their contests about the middle of the month. Sam Chalker Mahony has been corresponding with several fighters for the November show, but no definite action will be taken until after next Tuesday evening. George Nemele of Portland and Jack Cordell of San Francisco have been spoken of as a good attraction for the main event of the November show. "Jimmie" Brennan was an interested spectator at the "Yiddish" game last Sunday.

YACHT CLUB WILL HOLD JOINT CELEBRATION TOMORROW.

The cruise in squadron tomorrow of all three of the yachting clubs, closes the 1903 season. The yachts will await the signal from their respective flagships and cruise in the channel and along the water front. Tonight each of the clubs will celebrate in some particular jinks. The San Francisco Club will hold a smoker, at which the program will consist of a zither solo by Alphonse Hirsch, a humorous interlude by John Milligan, songs by R. W. Mason, and J. Giannini, comely by A. C. Ayers, songs by Frank Clodi and W. T. Hazley, stories by "Doc" Twoomey, songs by Stuart Harold and Louis Le Page, Carter and Mendel, the popular mirth provokers, have been persuaded to appear on this eventful occasion with a full cargo of comicallies and George Washington Bruce will also favor the yachtsmen with a display of his talents. A violin solo is also featured on the program and the Olympic Club will be ably represented by a number of its champion boxers and wrestlers. "Doc" Hill may also be heard from and "Billy" Hayes and Tom Hickey will appear before the merry tars. After the performance a chowder supper will be served, "below decks" after which a special ferry-boat will leave Sausalito at 12:25 for the benefit of those who desire to return to the city. The program will be followed by the distribution of prizes won by the yachts in the annual regatta, as well as those won in several recent aquatic sporting events. The California Club will wind up the season with high jinks. There will be music by the club orchestra, refreshments and a supper of clam chowder, coffee, hard tack, and "other things." The regatta committee will distribute the prizes won in the special yacht race and in the Vincent handicap regatta. The Vincent handicap cup and a first-class pennant will be awarded to the yawl Iola, Captain Robert Vincent; a second-class pennant to the yawl Gypsy, Captain Charles B. Clark; a third-class to the Sloop Thelma, Captain H. G. Marshall. The winners of the yawl race, the yawl Pilgrim, Captain Julian Altendorf, will receive a silver cup and a first-class pennant, and the yawl Gypsy, Captain Charles B. Clark, will receive a silver cup and second-class pennant. The Sloop Thelma will be presented with a dinner flag as the winner of the dinner race. No special program has been planned for the Corinthians' jinks at their Tiburon club house. But there will doubtless be no marked dearth of joy in the course of the evening, as there will probably be sufficient talent present to provide an impromptu program worthy of keen enjoyment.

STARS THROW AWAY THE GAME.

Henry Harris' aggregation of star ball tossers are evidently tired of second place and are anxious to have Fisher's men superseded them. At any rate their playing in Portland yesterday afternoon seemed to indicate such a feeling. They piled up a total of nine errors in seven innings and then quit the game. At that period the score stood 11 to 2 against them and they were hopelessly beaten. The Stars started out well enough and when the fifth inning was started the score was 1 to 1 and both Cutler and FIGHT FANS WILL BE AT RELIANCE ENTERTAINMENT TUESDAY NIGHT.

The Reliance Athletic Club of this city has an unusually attractive program for the entertainment of the devotees of boxing who will gather at the club gymnasium next Tuesday evening. It is generally conceded that the main event will be one of the best ever seen in this city and the two preliminary contests will not be far behind it in the way of furnishing excitement for the spectators. The tickets are now on sale and the advance orders have been unusually large, which means that the gymnasium will be packed to its capacity. The evening's entertainment will open with a four-round bout between Jack Evans and Fred Turner, colored, two 125-pound men, who can mix it with the best in their class. Both are clever fighters and will furnish plenty of excitement in the way of a certain-raiser. As soon as they are out of the ring George Carter of West Oakland and George Brown of Stockton will climb through the ropes for the main preliminary. They will fight at 145 pounds. There will be an eight-round affair and it promises to be a good one. Brown is very clever and has a quite a reputation for defeating Young McConnel last month. Carter is said to be fully as clever, and they should put up a battle royal while it lasts. They are both posted a forfeit of $25 to appear and $25 to make 145 pounds at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening. The main event, last on the program, is the one in which the greatest interest is centered and will be a light heavyweight contest between Al Weing of Buffalo and Joe Millitt of San Francisco, a catch-weight fight. Both have posted $200 each to guarantee their appearance in the ring, and they will certainly be a hand fit to fight the battle of their lives. Both are lightweights, but Weing has for some time in anticipation of a match, and when they signed with the Reliance Club they agreed to give more than 10 to 5 if they will give that much. Weing himself would like to wager $25 at even money and will make it in a lump sum or in small parts. As yet the betting has been comparatively light and principally private bets at even money. The chances are that Weing will be a slight favorite by Tuesday night, but the men are so evenly matched that it is doubtful if the betting men will get more than 10 to 5 if they will give that much. Thielman were pitching great ball. In their half the Stars scored one. This seemed too much for them, for they went to pieces and allowed the Brown to score eight times on four hits in the first half of the fifth. The slaughter of the Stars was something awful to see. The Stars all played very poor ball with one exception and that was Cutler. Zeafroff. He played the game all the time and accepted six hard chances without an error. In addition to the three out five men who attempted to foul see.

Portland, R. H. E. San Francisco 2 0 9 Batteries—Thielman and Anderson; Cutler and Zeafroff. Evening gowns for ball and full dress are made very decorative, but for comfort or reception, the best models have transparent veils and high transparent collar bands. All white and black and white combinations remain first favorites though many colored evening gowns are shown.

THEY ARE IN FAVOR OF JOINING ASSOCIATION OF MINOR LEAGUES.

Secretary Goodman of the Pacific Coast League Association, has been sounding the northern managers on the subject of joining the Association of Minor Leagues under certain conditions and he has found them in favor of the proposition. The California clubs are not anxious to secure protection, in fact, they prefer to be independent of any jurisdiction but at the same time they wish to do what is best for the good of the game. There are a number of concessions that the Coast League would insist on before they would entertain a proposition to join the National body. This league is one of the best and fastest in the United States and should it join the National Association, it should be the ranking league. Mike Fisher has a new pitcher, whom he thinks is a wonder, by the name of Killian. The new man shows up in great shape in practice and he will pitch one of the games tomorrow. Seattle and Portland are now dangerously near San Francisco and Sacramento and if they continue to play the ball they have during the last few weeks, they will be holding second and third places by the end of next week. Los Angeles is too far ahead to be overtaken, but there is a chance for one of the other teams to finish a close second.

Rockaford, Lohman's new fielder, has made good and creates a good impression by the way he runs bases and slides. Fisher has entered an objection to Rockaford's playing with Oakland on the ground that he was prevented from signing Maupin and Damman of the defunct Pacific Nationals. Tealy Raymond has been doing fairly well at short stop with Los Angeles, although he comes far from filling the gap left by the absence of Jimmy Toman. The latter is one of the best shortstops in the League and could hold his own in National League Company. Newton still leads the pitchers in the Coast League by a substantial margin. Following are the percentages of wins of the pitchers to date:

Tom Klerman, "Lefty" Boas and Lee Harris will be at the game as usual Sunday afternoon to cheer the Joaquin on to victory.

BIG GAME FOR HITT WAS WILD AND GOOD.

JOAQUINS WILL PLAY GANTNER & MATTERS AT GOLDEN GATE. OAKLAND WINS FROM SENATORS IN CLOSE GAME YESTERDAY.

The Joaquin will play the Gantner-Matters at Freeman's Park at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for a purse of $50. The latter team is the champion of San Francisco county, while the Joaquin are the champions on this side of the bay, and a good game is anticipated. The Knitters will have their strongest line-up on hand, as they recognize the fact that the Joaquin are a fast proposition to beat.

Rollander, the clever soldier-pitcher, will occupy the box for them, while Ford will be on the receiving end. For the Joaquin Fred Parline will do stunts in the box and he will undoubtedly give a good account of himself. He has just returned from Honolulu, where he has made an excellent record as a pitcher, finishing the season with eighteen games won and three lost, thereby leading all of the pitchers in the league. Jerry Demmy, who played with the Joaquin earlier in the season, will cover short, and he will cut all his stunts come to his neighborhood. The Joaquin will certainly have a stonewall infield team in the line-up, and Demmy, Denney, and the opposing batters will have to go some to get any hits through these men. In the outfield there will be Harry Blake, Gosinsky and Russ. Parline, and "Demon" Kline will be the utility man. This is as fast an outfield as can be found anywhere, and they also can hit some.

The following are the batting averages of the team: Lutzen, .500; Demmy, .500; Rollander, .500; Wynn, .500; Parline, .500; Gosinsky, .420; Parlier, .400; Flynn, .400; and Kline, .321. The team has been hitting well all season, but have lost some of their earlier games by lack of team work, but now the team works as a unit and great things are expected of them. The following well-known players will be on the bench with the Joaquin: Schmidt, Dunleavy, Eddie Kerr, Oscar Graham and George Fiere. Fiere, a Blenheim has been secured as umpire for the game, and there will surely be no kick coming, as Fiere has umpired the game from A to Z, and has umpired the former games played by these two teams to their utter satisfaction. The following will be the line-up of the two teams:

The Heesmans go to San Jose to meet the latter team for the last time this season. The Heesmans have the strongest team in the field, as very much depends on this game. If the Heesmans win the San Jose team will have a third in the league race, as San Jose will have their strongest team in the field, because they wish to retain their hold on second place.

Frank Wynn played with the Heesmans at Petaluma last Sunday and succeeded in getting four hits out of a possible five. Cliff Ireland led the Bulletin with the stock last Sunday.

The different Joaquin ballplayers seem very much in evidence wherever they go. "Bill" Curbin's Jesse Monro are making a game fight for second place.

The Bulletin go to Santa Rosa tomorrow. Last Sunday the Haywards used the presidio battery and went to Newark and defeated the Newark by a score of 4-0. The speller battery succeeded in striking out eighteen of the "store-makers."

"Demon" Kline has asked for his release from the Joaquin, but the manager thinks too much of this clever player's services to part with him. He will handle on the salary roll for the balance of the season.

"Moore" Baxter will play first base for the Heesmans at San Jose. Ben Kaishin has secured a nice position as private secretary to a large ship-builder.

Jack Fluhsh has been watching the success of the team acted out by Bert Berceovich and he is thinking seriously of organizing a team for next season.

Rollander of the "Knitters" is one of the swiftest men in the business.

Stop and Think WHEN ADVISED THAT SURGERY IS THE ONLY WAY TO CURE A Bad Case of Piles Make haste slowly in this matter. If surgery is decided upon it means hospital, chloroform, opiates, confinement to bed for weeks and perhaps, a life of invalidism. In this progressive era there is no necessity for ANY CASE OF PILES TO BE CUT. Those old methods are rapidly disappearing as relics of the past and a new, more perfect, radical and humane treatment taking its place which cures without endangering life or hindrance to daily pursuits. Nearly six thousand men and women—many in this and nearby cities, have been permanently cured. Many of these cases were of thirty to forty years' standing, who take great pleasure in relating to their suffering friends their experience with this new treatment, and these may be consulted personally. If you are a sufferer, it will be worth your while to investigate this matter. It is safe and absolutely certain, and is not a nostrum proposition. Names will be sent for investigation. ## DYNAMITE MAKES BIG STIR.

CARLOAD OF EXPLOSIVES COLLIDES WITH TRAIN AND DOES DAMAGE.

NEW YORK, October 24.—Three freight cars, one of them loaded with dynamite, had broken away from a freight train on the Harlem river branch of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, collided with the remainder of the train on a grade, and the car with the explosive in it was blown up.

The engineer, Thomas Corisan, was thrown off his seat and for a few minutes was slightly stunned. He regained his presence of mind, however, and shut off steam, bringing the train to a stop. Nearly every house in Baychester suffered from the explosion. A woman who was thrown from her bed is believed to be the only person who was injured. The three detached cars and the remainder of the main portion of the train were burned.

Within half a mile of the Baychester station not a pane of glass remained intact. In Westchester village, almost a panicle reigned. Men rushed to the postoffice armed with clubs and guns, believing that burglars had blown open the safe. Two houses on Long Island Sound, half a mile away from the scene of the explosion, were wrecked. There was some damage to City Island.

MARY COBURN BUSINESS OF THE WORKS BOARD.

SAYS ARTHUR REDFERN PULLED HER OUT OF A CHAIR.

NEW YORK, October 24.—Miss Mary Eliza Coburn, 18 years old, has begun an action in Brooklyn against Arthur Redfern for damages for personal injuries. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Coburn, was appointed today guardian ad litem by Justice Wilmet M. Smith of the Supreme Court. Miss Coburn is a daughter of the late James F. Coburn of Manhattan.

In February, 1903, Redfern was a guest at the home of her mother in Oakland, Cal. Miss Coburn avers she was living there at the time he inflicted the injuries complained of. She says she was reading when he seized her and pulled her out of a chair. She fell heavily on the floor. She declares that her nervous system is permanently shattered. Papers in the action have been filed with the County Clerk.

MAKES A DEFENSE OF MRS. EDDY.

"San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20, 1903. "Editor TRIBUNE—It was a great surprise to me to see a paper that is usually so well informed on current events, fall into the error of calling the Rev. Mary Baker Eddy a 'fakir.' If you would detain one of your reporters to thoroughly investigate the subject of Mrs. Eddy and Christian Science, he would bring you such a mass of irrefutable proof of the value and permanence of the work that is being done in your own city, to say nothing of the world at large, through the teachings of Mrs. Eddy, that you would ever after say of her, 'Blessed art thou amongst women.'"

Without entering into the merits or demerits of the other persons mentioned in your article of October 19, I would say that for thirty-six years Mrs. Eddy has been carrying on the work of healing the sick and reforming the sinner, and the adherents have grown from a small handful in 1866, to over a million in 1903. We have over six hundred church organizations, and church property in this country well up into millions of dollars. One of these edifices is in your own city. The membership of these churches is composed of the most intelligent and cultured people as there is in the world.

If Mrs. Eddy were 'faking,' would it not be reasonable to think that in 36 years she would have been exposed and put to shame? But instead, we find a constantly increasing body of people from all walks of life, coming to the truth she teaches, and being healed and reformed through that Truth. Thousands have, through the study of her published works, been healed of diseases of many years standing.

San Francisco, Oct. 20, 1903.

HEALTH'S DECALOGUE.
1. Rise early, retire early and fill your day with work.
2. Water and bread maintain life; pure air and sunshine are indispensable to health.
3. Frugality and sobriety form the best elixir of longevity.
4. Cleanliness prevents rust; the best cared for machines are the best.
5. Enough sleep repairs wear and strengthens; too much sleep softens and enfeebles.
6. One should be sensibly dressed in to give freedom to one's movements and enough warmth to be protected from sudden changes of temperature.
7. A clean and cheerful home makes a happy home.
8. The mind is refreshed and invigorated by a more or less of recreation; and abuse of them leads to dissipation and dissipation to vice.
9. Cheerfulness makes love of life; a gloomy life is a life of death. On the contrary, sadness and discouragement hasten old age.
10. Do not teach your living by your intellect? Then do not allow your arms and legs to grow stiff. Do you earn your bread by your pickaxe? Do not forget to cultivate your mind and to cultivate your thought.

ONE WAY TO RELIEVE THE GLOOM.
A little humor goes a great way in English official and private circles. They get their notions of humor from Punch, which is the most non-humorous publication in the world. Before the late commission sitting in London, Mr. Watson, one of the American advocates, inadvertently addressed the commission as 'your honors' forgetful of the fact that he was not in court, but in a public hall. The phrase in his arguments, Lord Alverstone, the presiding officer of the board, in a slightly way said: 'Do not you think you are over the top?' And there was a laugh. 'Indeed I do,' responded Mr. Watson, and then the laugh became general. It was a pretty love story besides other sketches, and another of the late C. V. Doyle's post-humorous poems. The Sanitarian tells how some society women are putting a masseur instead of a masseuse, and gives some bright comment on recent marriages and engagements. The political paragraph is all clean, cut and to the point. The automobile, book, stage and musical news is all of the latest. There is a good deal to interest Oakland in the musical department.

TOWN TALK.
This week's issue of Town Talk is remarkable for the interesting quality of its miscellany. "Casey on the Situation" is a vivid estimate of the political situation as it stands in San Francisco, and there is a "Fable of the Job-Chaser," which also bears on the situation. There is a pretty love story besides other sketches, and another of the late C. V. Doyle's post-humorous poems. The Board of Public Works in regular session yesterday transacted the following business.

Charles F. Ott, Superintendent of Streets submitted the following report on the complaint of Olaf Hansen as to the condition of Watson Avenue: "Upon investigation I find that Watson Avenue from Brooklyn to Peralta Avenue is an ungraded, and unimproved street and during the winter season the storm water has cut several large ruts in the street, hereby making it very inconvenient for the passage of vehicles. The street should, in my opinion, be graded and macadamized, but I understand that there are some legal obstacles in the way of its improvement. I would therefore recommend that the department be empowered to fill up the ruts and holes and put the street in passable condition for the winter. An appropriation of $75,000 for the improvement was adopted referring the communication to the City Council.

Resolutions were adopted as follows: Approving resolutions No. 122 on the General fund, 1903 to 1907, inclusive, on the street fund and 712 on the Sewer fund.

Approving and allowing a demand amounting to $61.70 against the Advertising fund; eleven demands aggregating $1718.39 against the Street fund; two demands aggregating $45.50 against the Park fund; one demand amounting to $51.95 against the Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph fund.

Referring council resolution authorizing the purchase of a turret nozzle for the fire department, at a cost not to exceed $400, to the chief of power to act.

Authorizing Superintendent of Streets to construct a catch-basin at Webster and First streets referred to Superintendent of Streets with power to act.

Authorizing the Chief Engineer to purchase Engine house No. 2 at a cost not to exceed $125, to paper and paint Engine house No. 2 at a cost not to exceed $184, and to paper and paint Engine house No. 3 at a cost not to exceed $187.

Referring to Chief of the Fire Department with power to act, Council resolution authorizing papering and painting of Chemical Engine house No. 2 at a cost of $145.

Referring Council resolution authorizing the purchase of a hose wagon from the purchase of a hose wagon from the Chief of the Fire Department with power to act.

Referring matter of painting and papering of the old Board of Health building on Fifteenth street to the Secretary of the board with power to act.

Permitting D. J. Sowell to move building from South side of Shattuck Avenue to Fifty-first street.

Declaring that the widening of Hawthorne Avenue between Elm and Webster would be a public benefit and instructing the secretary to report this decision to the City Council.

Granting G. W. Henderson permission to move his house from Broadway between Third and Fourth streets to Brush and Eighth streets.

Directing that no more permits be issued for construction of sewers that should empty into Cemetery creek.

This action was taken because of the protest of E. J. Kaler, who stated that the Board had allowed contractors to secure permits to do sewer work in that section without ascertaining where the outlet was to be and that the contractors had terminated the work at the east end of the street, which was the place to which the sewer was to be run.

State Medical Institute

ONE WEEK'S TREATMENT FREE.

GREAT CROWDS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE LIBERAL AND KIND OFFER.

The great number of patients who have taken advantage of the above liberal and kind offer during the last twenty days has made it impossible to wait upon them or do justice to them; therefore, we have decided to extend the time for the free treatment twenty days longer. All persons afflicted with any disease can come to the Sanitarium during the next twenty days and receive one week's treatment with medicines free.

Whatever may be your disease, whether young or old, men, women or children, come to the State Medical Institute and receive one week's treatment free.

If you are sick, and your family doctor and his medicines cannot cure you, come at once and investigate the successful treatment given at the State Medical Institute. No matter what your trouble may be, if you are not getting well, come to us at once.

We would especially invite all persons who have been suffering with diseases of long standing which have resisted former treatment, for we know well by experience that a large number of such cases can be treated successfully and cured by giving the proper medicines in the proper way.

After you visit this institution and see the large collection of pure, fresh drugs and the manner in which they are dispensed, and the electric and scientific apparatus and all the means that are necessary for the cure of diseases, you will then be satisfied that the State Medical Institute or Sanitarium is well worthy of your patronage.

The Manager of the State Medical Institute, having spent the last thirty years in the treatment of special diseases, a good part of which time has been in the large hospitals of Europe, New York and Philadelphia, we especially claim to be well prepared for the successful treatment of diseases of the eye, the ear, the nose, the throat, and the lungs, and we believe that we are better prepared for the treatment of catarrh and lung disease than any other medical institution in the West.

By a large experience with the formidable diseases of catarrh, asthma, rheumatism and the various kinds of indigestion, we feel that we can encourage every one suffering with these diseases to come to this institution with the assurance of being cured.

Where patients for any reason cannot visit the Institute, one of the doctors from the Sanitarium will see them at their homes as often as necessary.

Dr. Neale and associates treat and cure all—diseases of the eye, ear, throat, and lungs, liver, heart, kidneys, bladder, brain, catarrh, asthma, rheumatism, bronchitis, headache, deafness, chills and malaria, skin disease, neuralgia, diabetes, dyspepsia, dropsy, hemorrhoids, and rectal troubles, and all forms of sores, blood and wasting diseases.

All diseases of long standing are promptly cured and their effects permanently eradicated from the system.

Diseases of women and children given special attention.

Nervous diseases and nervous prostration made a specialty.

Consultation either at the Institute, at the patient's home, or by mail free.

Office hours—9 to 11 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., and 7 to 8 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 12 a. m.

gile of the poor, how they had to bear their burden. He made me almost cry by his eloquence. He talked about his own little home, which he only just managed to keep together by the sweat of his brow. 'Who is he?' I asked. 'Well,' replied my friend, the candidate, 'he is known in his own town as 'Punchpot Dick,' because he is a prosperous pawnbroker.'

Dean Hole, in impressing clergyman with the necessity of making themselves understood by their congregations, often cited a horrible case of the kind.

An East Indian, who had been fined in court, wrote to the judge about it. 'You honor,' wrote the appellant, 'may be right, I may be wrong; I may be right, your honor may be wrong. Let your honor give me back the fine and then at day of resurrection, when all hearts will be opened, if I am wrong, I will most gladly, sir, return your honor the money.'

FOOLISH CAMPAIGN CLAMORS. TO PREVENT CONTRACTION.

We Americans really ought to get over the absurd habit of representing every election, whether National, State or municipal, as a test of the ability of society to maintain itself. We indulge in all sorts of rhodomontade about candidates, and we emulate old time orthodox preachers in picturing the Tartarus that the voters will fall into if they don't do as we advise them to do.

Nine-tenths of this is pure humbug, and every sensible man knows it. So far from impressing the public, the newspapers that hysterically pretend to see hell in the form of a torchlight procession preceded by a brass band coming down the highway in case the opposition wins, get themselves laughed at. This sort of balderdash has been handed out so often that the average voter pays no more attention to it than he does to the spelling of a dime museum barker.

It is not our purpose to read a lecture to our brethren of the press, but to soberly point out the absurdity of a practice that all newspapers are more or less addicted to. Here, for instance, is our esteemed contemporary, the Sacramento Bee, proclaiming in frenzied tones that the local contest pending in that city is a struggle between the Home and the Saloon. It cannot be as bad as that, or anything like it. Doubtless the saloon interests will be better suited with one side than with the other, but that the Home is in danger of being wrecked that the Saloon may flourish on the ruins is ridiculous. No matter who is elected, there will continue to be homes and saloons in Sacramento. This does not imply, however, that the cause of decency and good government will not be subserved better by electing a particular candidate for mayor. That is generally the case. But the calamities that we generally picture as the result of a triumph of the opposition seldom follow. It is rarely the case that an election contest is between the good and the bad—as a rule there is good and bad on both sides, with a preponderance of one or the other on either side.

The Bee is not lacking in either ability of perspicacity, nor is it blind to the ordinary conditions which prevail in municipal life. It is all the more surprising, therefore, that it should narrow the question of a choice between the two tickets presented to the electors of Sacramento as an alternative of the Home or the Saloon.

We believe the Bee has abundant reasons for advocating the election of Mr. Elkus to the mayoralty, but it is not to be presumed that all the virtues are on his side, or all the virtuous people either. The Bee admits that his antagonist is a good man, one of "God's own noblemen," to use its own words. Surely God's own nobleman would not scheme to destroy the Home to foster the Saloon, or be willing to manage his office in the interests of the corrupt elements of society!

Mr. Elkus is a clear-headed, public-spirited, enterprising merchant, who has behind him the more solid elements of society and the more progressive sentiment of the community. He is the right kind of a man for mayor of a city, but we take it that he stands more for clean, capable, progressive administration of public affairs than he does for moral reform. Such a man must naturally be opposed to vicious resorts and illegal practices, but he cannot abolish the saloon if he would. Nor do we believe the issue is Sacramento is between the Home and the Saloon. If it were, our idea is that the Saloon would not have a chance.

Because the advocates of more stringent regulation of the retail liquor traffic are aggressively in favor of the election of Mr. Elkus, the more disreputable element in the liquor business oppose him, not so much because they are assured of immunity with the opposing candidate, but because they have a chance with him that they do not have with Mr. Elkus. Doubtless a considerable proportion of the liquor men are supporting Mr. Elkus, and this fact alone demonstrates that the issue is not distinctly between the Home and the Saloon.

A temperate statement of the facts would carry far more weight than excited appeals.

In San Francisco there are three candidates for the mayor. One of them stands notoriously for a wide-open town, but it cannot be said that the contest there is between the homes and the saloons. Of all the candidates, this one is the worst that could be selected, but after all he is already mayor, and the extent of the harm he can do has been pretty fairly gauged. It does no good to go into extravagances in speaking against him. The plain truth answers better, for it commands more respect and is likely to obtain greater credence. Human nature in Sacramento does not differ from what it is in San Francisco, and both candidates there are undeniably clean personally.

A South Carolina jury has vindicated Tillman, but who will undertake to vindicate South Carolina justice?

Hints for the Ladies.

"Three-decker" skirts are much in evidence in new models.

Empire evening gowns will be revived with added glory.

Even the fairly short skirt, to be successful, must be full.

A favorite Paris shade is oushroom, which will tone with the autumn browns.

Mixtures of golden brown and mauve or golden brown and green will be popular.

Oriental buckles and Indian gems have been pressed into the service of fashion.

All manner of flat stole perines are fashionable, not to say indispensable, just now.

The shorter the bolero the more elaborate the belt, which becomes an important item.

Sable and chinchilla are to reign this coming winter like the twinkling gondoliers in the opera.

Take this to your comfort—where you want three summer hats you can do with one winter one.

Long lines of braid or embroidered bands descending from the waist two-thirds the length of the skirt, and finishing in a drop ornament or fringe are to be a favored skirt gariture.

A lace scarf, composed of a myriad of tiny lace ruffles overlapping each other in very flat fashion on a net foundation, after the fashion of the flat naraboot scarf, is one of the ma belle's latest fancies.

Wide, attached boucles of plain chiffon with three or four rows of tucks at the bottom, form tofaut and attractive finishes for the skirts of evening gowns of silk, crepe de chine or similar stuffs.

Besides the browns and purples announced as the season's fashionable colors, an odd shade of fawn or dove color is also to be much worn, as it looks so well with moleskin, fur for which a vogue is predicted.

A smart frock of chiffon has a skirt trimming that was delightful. Big, flat rosettes of imitation "vau" had in the center of each a rhinestone button. Then these rosettes were strung along, one after the other, like rosary as a heading for a number of chiffon ruffles edged with the same lace.

Two-toned tuxedo veillings, mostly in hairline designs in diamond patterns, are among the season's favorites. Some of the newest have a single thread of white running through the black of the pattern, adding much to the effect. Again, at the intersection of the diamonds of the pattern there is a knot finished with a small figure of self material or of chenille.

For hard and wrinkled hands spend twenty minutes every night rubbing them with olive oil. Then apply the following lotion: Glycerine, two ounces; rosewater one ounce; acetic acid, one-half ounce.

For thin hair use a tonic at least once a week. An excellent one is made of bay rum, one pint; alcohol, one-half pint; castor oil, one ounce; carbonate of ammonia, one dram.

To clear the voice take a tea spoonful each of glycerine, lemon juice and whisky and put into half a cup of hot water, stir well and drink. Tie dose, if necessary, may be repeated several times during the day.

To make the skin as smooth as satin bathe the face once a week with hot milk or use warm water containing oatmeal. Rub the meal gently but thoroughly into the flesh. Rinse with clear water and before wiping rub a little rose water.

For a narrow face and heavy jaw the hair should be arranged in fluffy curls that will give breadth to the face; of the head. Fluffiness, fortunately, is still with us. Hair parted at the sides takes off five years at least from a woman's age and is therefore, a becoming style for occasional use.

The difference in size between the waist and bust—the measurement being taken just under the arms—in the well-formed woman should be from eight to ten inches. Underdeveloped busts are often due to lack of systematic development by exercise and gymnastics during the growing period—that is, from 10 to 18 years, when the athletic exercises under supervision are most important.

HENRY H. LYNCH IS IN LINE HAVE GONE ON THEIR WEDDING TOUR FOR SHERIFF.

HENRY H. LYNCH, REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR SHERIFF OF SAN FRANCISCO.

W. W. Foote, the eminent lawyer of California, was a schoolmate, and is still a personal friend of Henry H. Lynch, the Republican nominee for Sheriff of San Francisco.

But many residents of Oakland and Alameda county, other than Mr. Foote, are also on intimate terms, and are "with" Mr. Lynch in his every effort to get ahead in this world.

Henry H. Lynch, now superintendent of construction of the United Railways of San Francisco, and auditor and afterwards general manager of the Powell street cable road of that metropolis, was a dweller in Oakland fifteen or twenty years ago. Then he was a mechanic, being a draughtsman and patternmaker. In due time he entered the business field as a draughting engineer. One day he became manager of the extensive interests of the late Thomas H. Williams, of this city, well known as an attorney general of this state.

As right hand man for Mr. Williams, Henry H. Lynch took direct charge of operations at Union Island on the San Joaquin river, and conducted affairs there successfully. After the death of Williams he went to Panama with the late H. B. Shaven, and for two or three years carried on dredging operations under Panama canal contracts.

awarded by the De Lesseps company. The candidate to-day of the Republican party of San Francisco, for the high office of Sheriff, Mr. Lynch is quite likely to win that fight. Opposed to him is an aspirant who has the democratic nomination and who is also on the Union Labor party ticket. Mr. Lynch, however, has many henchmen among Democrats, and is extremely popular with hundreds of members of labor unions.

Although having for an antagonist a man who is the candidate of the Union Labor party, a political organization, Mr. Lynch is in no danger, as he would be if that Union Labor party was the accredited battle-force of the true labor unions of the sixteen assembly districts of San Francisco.

By years of hard work and thrift, and by virtue of sagacity in the matter of investing his savings, Mr. Lynch has become what might be called a rich man, and that fact has drawn to his support a large proportion of the moneyed men of San Francisco, a circumstance not so peculiar, after all.

So, despite the bombardment, which was certainly fierce and threatening at the outset, Henry H. Lynch is at this stage of the campaign an absolutely certain winner of the comfortable and distinguished birth of Sheriff of San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. W. HARRY CAMPBELL.

On Thursday last there was a very pretty marriage at the home of Mrs. E. M. Smith, 1835 Webster street, when Miss Lizzie M. Smith, the daughter of the home, became the bride of W. Harry Campbell, formerly of Dayton, Ohio. The bride appeared in a creation of imported white silk which was richly decorated with pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and was attended by her sister, Miss Josie Smith, who was gowned in pink crepe de chine and who carried pink carnations. The bride party assembled in the parlor to the strains of the "Wedding Chorus" from Lehengrin. The bride was given into the keeping of the groom by her brother, Frank Smith. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. K. McLean of the Pacific Theological Seminary. The best man was Fred L. Thomas of San Jose, while Fred L. Thomas of San Francisco and J. Novas Hubbard acted as ushers.

The bride is a daughter of the late E. F. Smith, capitalist, and the groom is at present interested in oil fields. After an extended trip through the South they will take up their pretty home at 366 Tenth street.

LIVERMORE WILL EXHIBIT.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR AN EXTENSIVE DISPLAY AT ST. LOUIS.

LIVERMORE, October 24.—Cragie Sharp representing the Alameda Commission to the St. Louis Exposition was in town yesterday for the purpose of arousing interest in a Tramway township exhibit. Mr. Sharp urges an immediate organization for the purpose of determining on a course of action and a distribution of the labor involved in gathering a creditable exhibit and preparing descriptive matter and statistics for the official pamphlet which the Commission has under consideration. The Commission desires samples of every product, natural and manufactured, which will exemplify the agricultural, mineral and industrial resources of the community. Some fine specimens in the agricultural line have been picked by Messrs. T. D. Carmichael, Fred Dickhoff and August Hagemann. Other farmers raising high grade cereals will be asked to contribute. Every contributor will be expected to furnish at least 100 pounds. Grain in the sheaf is also required, but that will have to wait until early next summer, as well as all other fruit and vegetable exhibits which can at that time be forwarded and help to freshen up and replenish the stock when on hand. John Aylward's model hay-press has been secured and a number of small exhibits will be made and exhibited to show the superior quality of the valley's principal product.

The viticultural department is well in hand already as several of the large wineries are arranging for an individual exhibit and will lend their active support to make the county exhibit attractive and interesting. The Wellmore Bowen Company, Dr. H. N. Cross, and Julius F. Smith have signified their intentions to install exhibits and it is likely that these will be triple in character each one leaving to the other a different variety to the end that it be more extensive and diversified. Others who will assist and send samples of their products are the Alameda and San Joaquin Coal Company can be relied upon to furnish a magnificent display from Tesla, including both the raw material and the finished product coal and briquette the glass and the manufactured glass magnesia and fire brick, clay and high grade pottery.

The Phoenix Mining Company will, it is called upon, furnish samples of their gold and quicksilver. The Martel Mining Company will certainly come to the front with its magnesia, which has been desired to be put into the exhibit and it is likely that it will allow this splendid opportunity to pass without grasping it. A little effort on their part and the limited resources of hill and valley, field and farm, mines, mineral and viticulture can be put before the eyes of the world in a manner that will attract the capitalist and the homeseeker to our midst and cause the development resources get undreamed of. Now is the time and every citizen, having the well-fare of Livermore Valley at heart, should be up and doing, as the show the work begins the more extensive will be the exhibit.

MOVES AWAY. David Withrow has decided to remove to the San Joaquin valley, having rented a ranch on the Sierra road about seven miles east of Stockton, where he will engage in farming on a large scale. Mr. and Mrs. Withrow have resided in Livermore for the past fifteen years. During that time they have made many warm friends who will regret their departure, but will wish them happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Joseph Laughlin, a prominent young farmer in the northern end of the valley was united in marriage by the Rev. J. B. LADGREN-CLIMA, PARISH.

EASY END JOH. To Shake Off Coffee and Sickness. It is easy to shake off coffee no matter how bad one may have it, when well made Postum Coffee is served in its place.

"I have drank coffee for years and always experienced trouble from it," says a Kansan. "I knew it was causing my sickness as my doctor told me it was, and following the doctor's advice I have repeatedly sworn off. But after a short time I could not stand it any longer and would go back to coffee and the old troubles. Never until I tried Postum about a year ago could I shut off the coffee for any length of time.

"At that time I was suffering terribly from stomach trouble, nervousness, headaches and all the other ills that go with a badly upset coffee stomach. I will have to wait until early next summer, as well as all other fruit and vegetable exhibits which can at that time be forwarded and help to freshen up and replenish the stock when on hand. John Aylward's model hay-press has been secured and a number of small exhibits will be made and exhibited to show the superior quality of the valley's principal product.

MR. TAFT ON WAY TO RECOVERY.

We are also sorry to hear of the severe illness of Mr. Taft whom everybody likes so well. He was stricken quite suddenly, but we cannot believe that the trouble is serious. Since Mr. Penoyer's retirement from an active part in business, Mr. Taft has taken too much upon himself, I am afraid. He has been East and to Europe making selections of most of the pretty things we wear and the result has been that he has overtaxed his strength and overtaxed himself. It is a great responsibility to make selections of goods for a large stock and Mr. Taft has gone down under the strain. Suppose you had to select dresses for most of the stylish women in Oakland—wouldn't you have a stroke when you know how particular and fussy some of them are? Flowers and messages have been pouring in on Mrs. Taft and we hope that the sufferer may soon be restored to his normal health and with care, enjoy many years of vigor. I hear Mr. Taft is on the high road to recovery.

THE MHOONS IN PASADENA.

Word comes from Major and Mrs. Mhoon that they are about to make a home in Pasadena. Major Mhoon has been there for some time, trying the climate, and they hope that they will be able to remain there for the winter, at least, and perhaps permanently. The Major has had one or two bad colds since his arrival in the land of perpetual summer but he is quite well on the whole and Pasadena is so much nearer the family connections of the Mhoons and makes it possible for Mrs. Mhoon to make occasional trips to her old home. The winter society of Pasadena is very pleasant, too.

THE BANKERS' RECEPTION.

I like the way the local bankers have been entertaining their visiting brethren.

MRS. GEORGE REED BABCOCK, ONE OF THE BRIDES OF THE WEEK.

They have entertained them right royally but they have not asked a single contribution from an outsider. People will say it because they are rich but I think it is because they have a distinct sense of the difference between mine and thine. Christian Endeavorers, Epworth Leaguers, Grand Army Veterans, Knights of Pythias, are invited to hold their conventions in San Francisco by their local brethren and then the brethren, instead of digging the money out of their own pockets, call upon the public and make the citizens contribute the entire entertainment fund "for the honor of the city." It's an imposition, for the most part. The only request the bankers made was that the American flag be generally displayed on stores, houses and especially public buildings. The City Hall, Ferry Building and Call Building were illuminated electrically.

The headquarters of the local bankers at the Palace Hotel have been exquisitely decorated and there are free California fruits and flowers and wines—all you can carry away—for the asking. The decorations of the room were beautiful and were in the charge of Colonel Beck. There has been good speaking and good music and good eating for the entertainment of the visitors as well, and fairly good weather—though that was not all we might have wished. So much fog in October is unusual—but that's the way when you want to show off for visitors.

At least two notable receptions, to say nothing of many private entertainments and dinners have been given for the honor of the visiting plutocrats. The Century Club ladies gave a charming reception to the ladies of the East at their club rooms, 1215 Sutter street, on Tuesday afternoon. The decorations were delightful, grapes and their foliage being used in profusion. The walls of the assembly room were decorated with fine water colors of California wild flowers which interested the stranger women and the guests were received by a collection of stately dames in beautiful reception toilettes headed by Mrs. Fred Sanborn, the president.

I was at dinner in the Grill the other night and I could not but notice the difference in the appearance of this party of visiting delegates and that of any other convention I have ever seen here. A great many women were dining in full evening dress and it did look so pretty. You know as well as I how rarely San Francisco women are properly gowned for dinners or receptions. It is seldom, except during the opera season, that you see bare shoulders in the Grill. But these women had the ease and unconsciousness which comes from long use and custom.

At the reception given to the bankers at the Mark Hopkins house the other night, there were some handsome gowns. Some delicious champagne punch and a very good buffet supper was served below stairs. Oakland was well represented on the receiving list. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Palmanteer, were among those who received. Mrs. Requa looked stunning in a low-cut lavender satin gown with some magnificent diamond ornaments. Mrs. Palmanteer looked well in a lovely new gown. Miss Caroline Palmanteer was also handsomely gowned. Mrs. P. B. Cornwall from across the bay was pretty in a low-cut gown. Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler wore white.

THE MOSES TO MOVE TO BERKELEY.
Since her return from the Philippines Mrs. Bernard Moses has not been feeling at all well. After the enervating climate of the Philippines, which she stood very well, the trip home was too hard for her. The Moses returned by India and the Oriental route and were seven months in transit. Since her return to California, Mrs. Moses has been staying with her mother, Mrs. Briggs, across the bay. The Moses will shortly move to Berkeley, however, where they are talking of building a new home.

MRS. LONG WILL REMAIN FOR AWHILE.

The plans of the folk at Highlands have been changed and Mrs. Long will remain in California until after Christmas. It has been decided that Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Requa will take a trip to the Hawaiian Islands and Mrs. Long will remain in charge of Highlands with her children until their return the end of December.

It will be an attractive trip for Mr. and Mrs. Requa, but General Long will sadly miss his charming wife, who had expected to spend the entire winter with him. He is, however, living at one of the army clubs, which are very numerous and attractive in Washington.

NOVEL TEA FOR MISS FASSETT.

"Fascinating Miss Fassett" as she has come to be called, was the motif of a very delightful little tea given by Miss Laura Prather at her studio on Wednesday. Only a favored few were invited, but the affair was most cozy, informal and unusual. The guests' parol of tiny Maryland biscuits light as feathers, and forty times as good, and deliciously fragrant Bohemian. I often wonder, by the way, why teas without tea are so much the rule. I think tea is most refreshing to tired nerves and awfully good, but at most of the teas one never hears of it, much less sees it. The Fassettas leave next week for Elmira, New York, their home, with Miss Ella Bender, of San Francisco, who is their cousin. Miss Fassett is really engaged, though this will be her first season out, and Miss Bender will have a delightful time with her in New York this winter.

MUCH ENTERTAINING FOR BRIDES-ELECT.

Mrs. Irving Burrell, Mrs. Davis, Miss Edna Barry and Miss Jacqueline Moore are to be the motifs of most of the entertaining which will keep Oakland stirred up this fall. A dame for the two brides and the two brides-elect was given by the dancing club of which they are all members. This coming week a number of card parties will be given for Miss Moore and Miss Barry, the most important of which is a card party to be given by Mrs. A. A. Moore, Sr., in honor of Miss Barry.

MR. HOTALING'S HOUSE PARTY.

The correct list of those who were entertained by Mr. Hotaling at his end-of-the-week house party last week is Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Deering, Miss Ella Margaret Bender, Miss Froelich and Mr. Charles K. Field. The long days were beautiful and warm in Marin county, where it was sunny and warm as in July.

SOME NOTABLE CONCERTS.

Two notable concerts occur across the bay next week. Nordica's on Tuesday, and Mrs. Fiske's on Thursday, each with the Metropolitan orchestra. The Nordica programme is said to be one of the best she has ever given, and seats are selling like the proverbial New England hot cakes. There will be a large and fashionable as well as a musical crowd. The Twentieth Century Club, San Francisco's fashionable musical organization, will also give a concert next week, so the affairs of the winter are already rushing on and the weeks bid fair to be crowded with day as well as night joys.

MISS OLNEY A BRIDE.

Miss Eleanor Olney made one of the sweetest brides who ever smiled in Oakland, and her wedding was as pretty and informal and simple as it was unusual. In the first place a double ring ceremony was read by popular Mr. Shaw, rector of the Church of the Advent, who marries almost all of Oakland's fairest and most fashionable brides, and it is a very pretty service. Indeed, which I, for one, believe in, for why should the women wear the wedding band and bond and not the man? Miss Olney, as I told you, wore her grandmother's wedding gown, and her maid of honor was Miss I. O. Aldina Cameron, of San Francisco. The old-fashioned gown was as quaint and sweet and pretty as the bride herself, who has lovely manners. A very small and informal reception was held afterward at the bride's home, where the illness of Mrs. Olney had prevented anything in the least elaborate.

MISS HAZARD'S WEDDING IN BERKELEY.

The marriage of Miss Irene Hazard, in Berkeley, was of great interest in college circles, and the reception afterward at the bride's sorority home was a novel feature. The Kappa Kappa Gammas have a large, handsomely furnished house and the reception was a pretty one. Miss Hazard carried out the same idea that made Carmen Moore Starr's wedding so lovely, and was preceded to the altar by a bevy of her girl friends, some twenty of them, but, unlike Carmen Moore, she had bridesmaids, too, and a maid-of-honor. Miss Hazard is most popular in college circles.

A CASE OF OVER-CONFIDENCE.

I think everyone was very glad that the Berkeley freshmen were so badly defeated by the Stanford team last Saturday. This may wake the Berkeley men up to what is happening. They have a bad case of big-head, resulting from over-confidence, and the probabilities are that unless they get to work and work very hard between now and the big game, they will be defeated with a big score. The fact has been heralded everywhere, that Berkeley has, this year, last year's victorious team, and the result has been a lamentable lack of snap and spirit and vim in the practice work. The coaches realize the predicament, and have tried hard to awaken the boys to their danger, but, so far, without success. But the disastrous game of last Saturday has started the varsity team from its calm, and they will try desperately hard to make up for lost time.

DR. KIERULFF IN SAN RAFAEL.

Young Dr. Kierulff, who was graduated with high honors with the class of 1896 at the University of California, is a teacher of the classics in the Mount Tamalpais Military Academy, where he is very popular. He was formerly principal of one of the Alameda schools.

THE STANFORDS TO TAKE AN AUTOMOBILE TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Stanford, of Warm Springs, have been spending a few days at the Palace Hotel. Next week they leave for a couple of weeks at Del Monte in their automobile, and later will go to Pasadena and Los Angeles and Santa Barbara for a short stay. This trip will also be made in their motor car.

MRS. FUNSTON LEAVES.

Mrs. Frederick Funston, with a train of nurses and babies, has left her mother's home for her own home in the north. The second baby is also a son, and has been christened "Frederick" after his father.

MISS PARTINGTON'S PICTURES.

Oaklanders are specially interested in the salon pictures of Miss Gertrude Partington, which are now on exhibition in the outside room at Vickery's. They are most interesting productions, and I can scarcely tell which I like better—the slender, narrow-eyed, witching French girl with the red hair, or the boy with the face of Pan. They must be seen to be appreciated and before you can realize what fine, strong work this talented former Oakland girl has been doing. Miss Partington leaves soon for Arizona, where she will paint two portraits.

ARTIST KEITH'S PICTURES.

Keith also has an exhibition in the Rose Room at Vickery's—a collection of such splendid work that every Californian must needs feel proud. There is great variety in the work, too. There is one mountain picture, reminiscent of Keith's rambles in the High Sierras, two of Berkeley oaks, as beautiful as any he has ever done, and several of sheep and dark trees and skies in the "old master" style. Then there are two or three witching light things, not at all in what has come to be known as the "Keith manner," but thrilling with California atmosphere. If I were a visiting banker with a bank account as long as my arm, I'd take back a bit of California with me in the shape of one of these pictures of the modern master, Keith.

HANDKERCHIEF SALE FOR CHARITY.

The King's Daughters will give a handkerchief sale at their home near Fabiola for the benefit of the home. The sale will take place in November, and, besides handkerchiefs, there will be dainty carset-covers, jellies, fancy work, and dressed dolls, the last being the offering of a table of little girls, at the head of which is Miss Adele Scott.

TRAINING OF OUR GRANDMOTHERS.

Our grandmothers tried hard to train us in the way we should go, and one of their favorite maxims was "to take time by the forelock."

But the society girl who has lived up to the old adage in the matter of getting her winter wardrobe ready, is just now bewailing her hard fate.

For Dame Fashion has decreed that everything shall be radically different but it takes us on this coast a long time to find out what fickle Dame Fashion really means. Paris and Vienna set the styles. We see them in books, but we are not sure they are the real thing. We must wait for them to materialize. And as the real thing in styles has to get here by slow freight all the way across the ocean, and all the way across the continent, it is late in the autumn before we can really make up our minds.

And the modern girl of the swell set is going to present a charming picture this season. She is not going to be the Gibson girl any more. And after all we are rather tired of that eternal Gibson girl. She is always posing and always the same type, and one sighs for something unique and original. Well, we have it now—the girl of the smart set must resemble the girl of 1830 as much as possible. The gowns show the long sloping shoulders one notices in the old pictures, and the skirts are much fuller, and one sees the flubus that our grandmothers wore with such charming effect.

The most attractive new fad is to be found in the wide belt, which sets off the modern corsage. The new belts are wide, many of them five inches high, and the newest fashion in front with two straps and two buckles.

AND THE HATS! OH THE HATS!

And the hats! They also go back to the days of Gainsborough—for there is a perfect craze for the picture hat. Nearly every one shows at least one trailing ostrich plume. It is simply reckless extravagance the way ostrich plumes are piled upon hats, winding in and out, in the most extravagant fashion. It is hard to tell which is the most fashionable, the pale blue feather or the brown feather.

Both are much affected by women who keep in touch with Paris fashions. Perhaps the most astonishing thing

MISS DAPHNE GLEASON.

Dame Fashion has done for us, concerns itself with the dressing of the hair. It has been slowly slipping downward, till it is done up low on the nape of the neck, but lo! there is a new development. The society dame resembles Pocahontas of old.

WEAR THE HAIR DOWN THE BACK.

The latest edict is to wear the hair down the back in simple school-girl fashion.

It is really true, and not a sensational story. The interesting young Duchess of Marlborough is responsible for the new style. She has many followers, among them the Princess Henry. They all appeared recently in the most gorgeous evening gowns with hair streaming down their backs. And the most exclusive set in London is preparing to follow the fad.

It is a far cry to the fashions of our own smart set. But strange things happen therein, and if we adopt this late fad, when there is a fashionable crush at the Macdonough may I be there to see.

NO WOMAN GROWS OLD ANY MORE.

But to look young is the order of the hour—it is the care of one's grandmother and leavens all the society of the day. No woman grows old any more—if she can help it.

MAIN ACTIVITY AMONG SMART SET.

If you look for the main activity among the smart set, you will find it in the club movement. Oakland is a network of clubs, and still more are to be started. The woman of the smart set is equally at home with any modern card game or studying any economical problem. The latter may engage the attention of statesmen, but that don't matter. She will study it all the same, and she is perfectly serene when she has settled it to her satisfaction.

Oakland has now the Ebell, the Oakland, the Civic Club.

Once upon a time, some years ago, the suffragists organized a club in Alameda county. It took the whole season to get up the constitution, for the members simply camped upon the trail and every clause was adopted after pronounced warfare.

When the constitution was in working order, hardly any of the original members remained. But an Oakland Club will be sure of a better fate. We are a little more well-bred along club lines, and "scraps" may exist, but they do not readily come to the surface.

SOMETHING ABOUT WOMEN'S CLUBS.

The history of the early club movement in Oakland might prove interesting, if someone had time to write it. Foremost among the clubs of some years ago was the "Current Events Club," the leader of which was Mrs. William H. Chickering. The meetings were held at her home, and some exceedingly able papers were read there.

The Women's Civic Club, Mayor O'Leary's pet project, is ready for work. Some of its members, remember that other civic club, which once got a good start under the leadership of Dr. Knox. Some valuable lessons were learned there also, especially in tree planting. It was expected the city would pay for the work, but the city was not doing business along that line. I think the club finally paid the bill—I never heard whether there was any money left in the treasury afterward. It was a subject the officers of the club never cared to discuss.

SOCIAL SEASON HAS FAIRLY BEGUN.

With the coming of the late October days, the social season has fairly begun, and one's days are very full of dates. The popular girl is much in demand, but life is not all as rosy for her as people might imagine.

Everyone wants to entertain her, and she has to meet a lot of people she doesn't know or doesn't want to know.

And people whom she hardly knows invite her to their entertainments, and even if she does not go, her name is on their lists, and appears in the papers. There are many things in a social way that are up to the "popular girl," and are not fair to her, and if she is the right sort of girl she gets very tired of a sham and veneer that she sees perhaps for the first time in her life.

Indeed, life's pathway is not strewn altogether with rose leaves for the young debutante who is beautiful and attractive. There is a little rod, Jealousy, who flits about among the smart set, and there are occasions when he makes things lively. One needs to beware of him, with his miserable little green eyes, and his bad, wicked heart.

BERTIE BRUCE TO BE ENTERTAINED.

A leading social event of next week, for prominent families on both sides of the bay will be the wedding of Miss Bertie Bruce and Ferdinand Stephenson. At one time the friends and relatives of the family thought it never would take place, for Mrs. Bruce simply wore everybody out.

The home of the young people is been ready this long time, the troupe all prepared, the gowns of the relatives have been ready for weeks and weeks, but when the invitations were to be sent out Mrs. Bruce always had an attack of nerves. Everybody was very sorry for the poor bride-elect, who has had a hard time, and her friends are hoping there will be no more "nerves" till after the wedding ceremony.

There has been a great deal of entertainment for this special bride-elect, each member of the wedding party, in turn giving a luncheon.

The first of the round of luncheons was given at Level Lea, when Miss Margaret Sinclair entertained in honor of Miss Bruce. The table was an exceedingly pretty picture, all in creamy Cecil Bruner roses. The most superb collection of La France and Cecil Bruner roses in the country is to be found in the conservatory at Level Lea. Miss Sinclair's guests were the young girls of the bridal party and Mrs. R. L. Stephenson, Mrs. C. C. Day, and her cousin's dance, Miss Edna Barry.

Among the bridesmaids will be Miss Lucie King, who is Mrs. Regan's niece. Miss King entertained at luncheon in honor of Miss Bertie Bruce and Miss Bernice Brown, and Miss Van Wyck entertained for Miss Bruce at the Knickerbocker.

Among the ushers at the wedding will be James K. Moffitt and E. B. Beck—the latter, the "Beany Beek," who is a favorite with so many families.

MISS SHREVE'S ENGAGEMENT.

Of course the notable engagement announcement of the week was that of Frank Parcells and Miss Shreve, of Alameda. Mr. Parcells was such a confirmed bachelor, so devoted to bachelor ways, that his friends have welcomed the engagement with much glee. The Parcells family have a wide circle of acquaintances in this city, and Frank Parcells is very popular in a great many sets.

He has always taken a great deal of interest in university affairs, being a graduate of Berkeley, and he is also a Harvard man. I hear he is most successful in the practice of his chosen profession, the law.

Miss Shreve is also a graduate of Berkeley, winning her diploma three years ago. She is a very well-bred girl, with charming manners, and that rare culture that the world makes a winning factor for a successful woman.

Mrs. Parcells is devoted to her sons, and has always entertained hospitably for them in her artistic home on Webster street. The luncheon she gave in honor of her new daughter was one of the brightest affairs of the year. The table was very pretty, indeed—it all ways is when violets are the motif of the decoration. And the wedding touch was evident, in the dainty arrangement from the chandeliers of white tulle.

The informal reception which followed the luncheon was very enjoyable—for the bride-elect met many of Mrs. Parcells' friends, and the pleasure of the meeting was mutual.

The wedding will be a notable one, and will take place at the bride's home in Alameda, after which the young people will take a trip east.

MISS KNIGHT'S WEDDING.

The wedding of Mr. Clarence Gray, and Miss Eva Knight was a very quiet affair, taking place at the bride's home on Webster street. She was given away by her father, and one hears that the wedding gown was one of the most beautiful seen here this year, of white crepe beautifully hand embroidered. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Knight came over for the event, and Mrs. Allen and Miss Harriet Emma Knight were both exquisitely gowned.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray are at the Hotel Potter, en route for the East. It was originally intended that they should make their home with the Knights, but the plans have since been changed. They have taken an apartment which is being fitted up for them, and on their return from the East will begin house-keeping for themselves.

COMES BACK FROM ABROAD.

Mrs. Cryan, formerly Miss Minnie Matthews, has come from abroad, bringing her children with her, and will spend some weeks with her mother, Mrs. Matthews, of Webster street.

Some years ago when the family were travelling abroad, Miss Minnie Matthews met Mr. Cryan, an Englishman of wealth and leisure. They were in Oakland, and they were married, and since then they have lived, for the most part, abroad.

The Cryans came here, intending to remain, but Mr. Cryan found life lonely enough. Our rich men are not gentlemen of leisure. They work as hard as anybody else for a living! So the Cryans have been abroad, and have spent many months in Italy. The children speak foreign languages perfectly.

Mrs. Herbert Moffitt is a cousin of Mrs. Cryan's, so is Mrs. Rudolph Spreckels, so no doubt there will be an entertaining in honor of her homecoming.

Miss Ethel Whitney has gone abroad with her aunt, Mrs. Condit Smith. All of Mrs. Smith's step-daughters are married, and her niece, Ethel Whitney, is spending some months with her. Mrs. Macreary, another aunt, has been entertaining guests this summer, at her villa on Lake Como.

WILL NOT GO TO ISLANDS AT PRESENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Requa intended to sail for Honolulu on the Sierra, on Thursday. They have postponed their departure till later in the winter.

SOCIAL NOTES OF INTEREST.

Paymaster and Mrs. Irwin have returned from the East, and are at Mare Island. Mrs. Irwin was formerly Miss Genevieve English, the eldest daughter of Mr. John English.

Mrs. Claude Bloch, formerly Augusta Kent, has returned from Samoa, the climate of the South Seas not agreeing with her. Lieut. Bloch will arrive on the next steamer, and they will go to Kentucky.

SOCIETY GIRLS DESIGN DRESSES.

Most of this week's gaiety has been in the parlors of the dress makers and milliners and from their appearance the smart set is getting ready for a busy season. Some of our belles design their own dresses obtaining graceful effects by giving a little extra thought to them and not leaving them entirely to the modiste. Our society girls have many useful accomplishments and take time to pursue some special line of study, besides devoting a certain amount of their time to charity. They are by no means the selfish butterfly maids they are frequently called, flitting here and there solely in pursuit of pleasure.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB.

The San Francisco Twentieth Century Club has some members from our side of the bay. Their program was a most delightful one last Monday. Mozart was the composer of the day and only his works were rendered. Miss Tobin, Miss Bessie Ames and Richard Tobin played a charming trio on the piano, cello and violin and Mrs. Willard Brown and F. R. S. Salfour sang several songs. Next Monday Miss Rogers, who has recently arrived from the East and is a talented musician will lecture on musical subjects.

BY FAIR MEANS OR FOUL.

The period of bazaars is once more setting in all over the country, and the ways of the energetic and unscrupulous ladies who sell—and incidentally bully, cajole and cheat—at them are open to criticism to say the least. Why is it considered perfectly legitimate to swindle, gamble and cream like a fishwife at a bazaar? The result of these methods is a public opinion with regard to bazaars which more or less tallies with that of the Scots minister who announced from the pulpit, "Trens, the Kirk is sore y in need o' siller, and as we have failed to get the money honestly we will try to get it by a bazaar." But however much one disapproves of them we will go to bazaars occasionally.

AN INTERESTING ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement of Miss Caroline Rixford and Covington Johnson, which was recently announced has aroused considerable interest and particularly in artistic and literary circles. They are receiving many good wishes and congratulations as they seem so well suited to each other, having so many tastes in common. Both have traveled extensively and Miss Rixford lived abroad several years, most of which time she studied art in Paris, where she was a pupil of Whistler. Since her return to California she has worked assiduously and has achieved an enviable reputation as an artist, her portraits being particularly clever. Miss Rixford is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Rixford. Covington Johnson has done some excellent literary work in the way of letters on his travels and is clever in a musical way as well. He has a home near Fruitvale and is a brother of Mrs. Edward J. Pringle, formerly of East Oakland. The wedding will probably take place early in the winter.

Among the bridesmaids were Miss Bessie Mills of San Francisco, and Miss Elsie Everson.

It was at Miss Mills' home that Miss Hazard met her husband, and the story is said to be very romantic.

The prettiest bridesmaid of all was Dottie Everson—she and Miss Edith Selby are among the very few college women whom one meets in the truly smart set.

DARING AUTOMAN IS COMING.

And Barney Oldfield is coming, and the day approaches for the big automobile races. The whole race is really Barney Oldfield, the most daring automobilist in the whole world. He is very handsome, about twenty-six and comes from the smart set of Detroit. Nobody races against him, for his principal effort now is to beat his own record, and he made his last mile in 16 seconds.

The race at Yonkers, New York, drew thousands of spectators, who went wild with excitement. Oldfield has made every bit of his racer, and it is trimmed down to the last notch. Any defect anywhere would cost him his life. One hears that it was perfectly wonderful to see him come tearing down the stretch, he looked as if shot out of a cannon. But he made his mile in 56 seconds, and he is going to try to lower that record at Ingleside, next week. Mr. John D. Spreckels is to be one of the judges. Meantime all the garages have more work than they can do, for every automobile must look its best at the great meet.

J. R. Burnham, whose valuable "Tolledo" is a well known machine about town, has recently purchased an automobile.

WILL GIVE A TEA.

Mrs. Carter Pomeroy will introduce her daughter Christine to society at a tea next Saturday afternoon.

HIS CHOICE IS APPROVED.

The engagement of Miss Clara Lewys, of Boston, and Charles P. Hubbard, the well-known tennis and golf champion and society favorite, of Oakland, caused pleasant comment. Miss Lewys is a strikingly handsome young woman of the brunette type, highly accomplished and possessed of a soulful contralto voice which has been carefully trained.

Mr. Hubbard's choice of a bride has met with the entire approbation of his entire family, who are vying with each other in lavishing attentions upon the prospective bride.

No date has as yet been set for the wedding, but it will in all probability take place in the early spring at Pasadena, the home of Miss Lewys' sister, Mrs. Walter Raymond.

ONE OF THE LATEST DECORATIONS.

The latest thing in decorations this year is the Oregon grape vine. It is on the order of the cranberry plant, which has held its own for so many seasons. The Oregon grape vine has very large, shining, green leaves, and is a very hardy plant, easily standing the heat of a crowded reception.

It formed the keynote of the exceedingly pretty decorations of the Kappa Kappa Gamma house for the reception which followed the wedding of Mr. Gerlinger and Miss Irene Hazard. Miss Hazard is the ninth bride this year from the Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity, and the University girls are wondering wherein lies the mascot.

Among the bridesmaids were Miss Bessie Mills of San Francisco, and Miss Elsie Everson.

It was at Miss Mills' home that Miss Hazard met her husband, and the story is said to be very romantic.

The prettiest bridesmaid of all was Dottie Everson—she and Miss Edith Selby are among the very few college women whom one meets in the truly smart set.

FRED GREENWOOD'S DINNER.

One of the notable dinners of the week was given in San Francisco, by Mr. Fred Greenwood. One of his guests was Mr. Orrin Peck, who takes his departure on the Siberia, and will join Mrs. Hearst's party in the Orient. After traveling to places of interest in China and Japan, the party will go to the Straits Settlements, and thence to the island of Ceylon. In India they are to visit Bombay, Delhi, Madras and Calcutta. His friends hear that Orrin Peck is to go from there to London, in which city he will reside permanently hereafter. Mrs. Peck and Miss Janet Peck have already established their home in London. The family are used to living abroad, and at one time they spent seven years in Dresden.

STORY OF THE DOVE MASQUERADE.

The story of the Dove Masquerade in Hearst Hall is floating through Berkeley. It never occurred to the dear co-eds who planned the masquerade, that so many of their number would choose to come in male attire. But nearly all of them did so, choose, borrowing the fateful garments from their friends.

Poor Mrs. Magee was at the door. She scrutinized all the feet, and she did her best to keep out the deceitful men—but nobody is at all sure that she succeeded. Hence the various stories.

It is a matter of doubtful refinement, however, borrowing and wearing male attire, and when so many of the women students chose that mode of disguise, it gives one food for thought.

WILL MEIN IS IN ENGLAND.

Mrs. Mein received a cablegram on Sunday from her son, Will Mein, announcing his safe arrival at Southampton. He will spend some days in London, before sailing for South Africa.

MRS. DUNCAN IN GLASGOW.

Mrs. Robert Duncan and her children are still in Glasgow, where they have spent a most enjoyable summer with relatives.

They will sail for home the last of November and they expect to be here for the Christmas holidays.

MRS. BUGBEE HAS GONE SOUTH.

Mrs. Sumner Bugbee has returned to Pasadena, where she is the center of many notable activities. Her chalet at Santa Monica is always full of guests during the summer.

Mrs. Bugbee makes her home with her mother, Mrs. Meeker. They have one of the most elaborate music rooms in Southern California, an organ having been built in it for Mrs. Bugbee. She is doing some good work along music lines, many of her compositions being sung as church music.

Mrs. Bugbee is president of the Guild at Pasadena, and one of the board of directors of an experimental orphan asylum. Miss Annie Meeker has been on the Pasadena board of education, and the family are quite in the heart of events in that Southern city.

THE MEDDLER.

GAVE ENTERTAINMENT.

The Vail System of Industry gave a very enjoyable house warming at their new headquarters, 558 Tenth street, Wednesday evening. Miss Irene Vail, of San Francisco, was the principal speaker of the evening, after which an interesting literary program was rendered, and dainty refreshments of lemonade, cakes and home-made candy were served. A business woman's union has been organized, which meets every Thursday afternoon, and a woman's exchange is to be started in the near future. Lectures on Vail are held every Tuesday and Thursday evening.

Miss Little comes from Columbus, Ohio, and is the guest of San Francisco friends. Miss Bangs is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bangs. She has been well educated and is charming and well bred. She will be one of the younger debutantes of the winter in the Friday Night Club.

The list of the receiving party is not yet complete, but will include only the young friends of Miss Bangs. The invitation list will include the friends of Miss Gertrude Allen and some of the younger married people.

INFORMAL LUNCHEON.

UNION INSTALLS OFFICERS.

SHINGLERS, MILLMEN AND GARMENT WORKERS HOLD MEETINGS.

Officers were installed last night by the Shinglers' Union, Local No. 1, as follows: President, H. A. Edwards; vice president, C. F. Brown; secretary, T. J. Courtland; treasurer, W. E. Barry; doorkeeper, C. E. Barney; delegate to the Building Trades' Council, J. W. Hovvers.

One new member was taken into the union.

GARMENT WORKERS.

The new constitution of the Garment Workers' Union was framed at last night's meeting. Owing to the small attendance and the desire to close the meeting early, the matter of amending the constitution was laid over until the next meeting. The most important change to be made, recommended by the national organization, is the raising of the dues. Most of the members of the local are adverse to the plan. They say the union is small and composed of women, who receive lower wages than men and are now paying into the treasury as much as they think they can afford. The San Francisco union, it is believed, will also oppose the scheme of raising the assessments.

MILLMEN.

One new member was initiated by the Millmen's Union and one application was received at last night's meeting. A sample letter, with the emblem of the organization at the top, was received from the national headquarters. The local will probably purchase a supply to be used in parades on holidays and at funerals. Nothing was done about the four million who were suspended from the Carpenters' Union for strike-breaking. The union believes that it has gone half-way in offering to reinstate the men if they make application, but will not take them back unless they make a formal request. These four violated one of the promises made in joining the organization and should ask to be taken back instead of waiting to be asked.

CENTRAL LABOR COUNCIL.

Monday evening in Kohler and Chase Hall, Eleventh street and Broadway, will be held a meeting of the Central Labor Council. It will be the first session of the body since its charter was received from the national headquarters of the American Federation of Labor, a few days ago, and a large attendance is expected.

MACHINISTS' OUT OF WORK.

Foremen at the West Oakland yards of the Southern Pacific report that there are more unemployed machinists applying for work now than at any time since the strike in 1924.

Many workmen are coming out to the coast from the East seeking jobs. It is believed that as a result of the scarcity of work, a strike for nine hours would be rather inopportune.

The recent displacement of steam by electricity on the North coast road has thrown hundreds of machinists out of work.

TEAMSTERS.

Teamsters, Local No. 70, will meet Monday evening at 855 Webster street, for the last reading of the constitution before it is adopted. The new constitution is one of the best of the kind in the country. It is so well regulated that if a general strike were ordered, every driver on a day, express wagon, laundry, retail bakery wagon, material wagon, retail delivery wagon in the entire United States could be called out inside of twenty-four hours, thus effectively tying up the whole country.

WILL MEET TONIGHT.

The Laborers' Union will meet this evening at Cooks and Waiters' headquarters, Eighth street and Broadway. The Tailmakers' Union will hold a session in Kohler and Chase Hall, Broadway and Eleventh street.

ICE CREAM AND SODA DRIVERS.

Owing to the small attendance, those present at the meeting of the Ice and Soda Water Wagon Drivers' Union, adjourned after a short session. An important business was laid over until the next meeting. The new schedule is now in the hands of the Federated Trades' Council for endorsement. That body has referred the matter to its executive committee.

BUTCHER'S CARNIVAL.

Tickets are going rapidly for the carnival to be given by the Independent Butchers' Protective, Benevolent and Aid Association in German Hall next Wednesday evening and the affair promises to be most successful.

TEXTILE WORKERS' DANCE.

The members of the textile workers' union are making elaborate preparations for the dance they are going to give next month in Hovey's academy on Eleventh street between Broadway and Franklin street.

MILKMEN TOMORROW.

The Milk Wagon Drivers will meet tomorrow in Becker's Hall to initiate a new member into the union.

COOKS AND WAITERS.

The house committee of the Cooks and Waiters' Union started on a tour of the town. All the hotels and smaller restaurants will be visited and asked to sign an agreement making the place a union house, paying union wages. Next Thursday the union will give its third annual ball in Reed Hall, corner of Thirteenth and Harrison streets.

LAUNDRY WORKERS' BALL.

On the last day of this month, the annual ball of the Laundry Workers' Union will be held.

Union will be held in Foresters' Hall, Thirteenth and Clay streets. A great deal of interest is being taken in the affair and it will no doubt prove most successful.

PLUMBERS.

A week from next Monday all union plumbers in Alameda County will receive a raise in wages of 50 cents a day from the present rate of $4. Next April they will get $5.

FAMOUS MUSICIAN AT MACDONOUGH.

John S. Duss, the famous band-master and orchestral leader, who will appear for the first time in Oakland at the Macdonough Theatre next Wednesday night, is a remarkable man in many ways. He is a "hit-maker" of the communistic settlement of Harmony near Pittsburgh, having succeeded the brilliant Father Benedict, who had so skillfully administered the Society's affairs that it was at one time able to restore the Society to its old time prosperity. It was with the band he organized at Harmony that Mr. Duss first gained fame and since he has been conducting the orchestra at the Metropolitan Opera House, it has scored a success that is remarkable. He is a native of Cincinnati, but was educated in Germany. He has studied music since he was six years old, playing in turn every string and wind instrument, so that he is presently fitted for the position he now holds.

T. C. CONNELL HAS CHARGE OF "CALL".

T. C. Connell is now in charge of the business office of the San Francisco C. I. in this city. Mr. Connell has been identified with this paper for over three years past and previous to that time was connected with the "Bulletin" for two years. Mr. Connell is well qualified for his responsible duties he so ably fills and the "Call" is securing him for this important position. He is a native son and has lived in San Francisco all his life. For over seven years he was in the freight department of the Southern Pacific Company. He was also at one time a prominent real estate contractor across the bay. He has since been employed by the "Call" and is now in charge of the "Call" in Oakland and vicinity.

KNABE PIANO USED AT ORPHEUS CONCERT.

Many of those present at the Orpheus concert at the Macdonough Theatre on Wednesday evening expressed a favorable opinion of the music as produced from the piano used on that occasion. The instrument utilized at the concert was the celebrated Knabe piano, furnished by the music house of Kohler & Chase. There were many expressions of approval from the audience as to the fine quality of tone of the piano, but not knowing that the music was so satisfactorily rendered by the Knabe piano. No piano made is of a higher standard than this make and it is used by experts and noted musicians in their concert halls all over the country.

ONLY THE LARGEST FIRMS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—According to latest plans the German steel combination will consist of only the largest steel producing firms in the country, says a Berlin dispatch to the Herald.

This has caused a great deal of anxiety among the class of smaller producers, who feared that they would be completely out of the market, which they are now getting together with the object of trying to organize themselves in such a manner as to force the larger concerns to incorporate them.

When the combination is once formed, it is considered by its advocates that it will be more able to bring the price of steel down to a level than the existing situation.

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. It Pays to be Close to the Mayor of San Francisco

The KNAVE

Absence of Old-Time
Saloon Canvass
Across Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, October 24.—I have been astounded to hear a number of intelligent people say they really don't care who will be elected Mayor of San Francisco because the Mayor is simply nothing more than a figure-head who can not even remove obstreperous commissioners without permission of the courts.

Such a statement in the light of the crisis that confronts San Francisco is really alarming.

I wonder if the gentlemen who think that way would be surprised if informed accurately and authoritatively that there is to be indirectly made out of the office of Mayor during the next two years, if things go right, over $1,000,000.

You may think that is an absurd statement but read on a few more paragraphs and I will prove to you that I am talking good, hard sense.

The Board of Police Commissioners can so arrange things that the 3,600 saloons of San Francisco will have to contribute say, in round numbers, $50,000 a month in attorney's fees alone.

The attorney who is close to the Mayor will get practically all of the fees.

This, of course, does not include the right to run the innumerable questionable resorts that are sprinkled all over San Francisco.

Now do you wonder why Abe Ruef wants to have a friend of his elected Mayor?

Incidentally, please remember, that Abe Ruef has already two of the Police Commissioners, body and soul.

To obtain a liquor license it is absolutely necessary to have three members of the Board of Police Commissioners favor the application for the license.

To lose a liquor license is the simplest and the easiest thing in the world. The members of the Board of Police Commissioners simply decide that the license should be revoked and that settles it. There is no appeal—there is no redress.

Now think of a man having the majority of the Board of Police Commissioners in his upper vest pocket with the 3,600 saloonkeepers of San Francisco absolutely depending upon his will for permission to traffic in grog.

Men in the business tell me that on the average the year around the most ordinary saloon has to pay out about $1 a month for legal advice of one sort or another. The large saloons retain attorneys at considerable cost.

If Abe Ruef had the actual say as to who should and who should not run saloons, I do not think there is another attorney in San Francisco who could be retained by a saloon man to fight his legal battles.

If Abe got $10 from each rum seller, he would be raking off a fee of over $400,000 a year cold.

That would be going some—don't you think so?

That is one of the reasons why a number of business men are anxious to prevent Abe Ruef from getting the reins of government. Knowing this, Ruef is making a big fight to retain his wonderful power. Money is being spent right and left. Liquor dealers up and down Market street have been flat-footedly told that unless they get right in line they will have to put up their shutters. Policemen have been given the quiet tip as to how to vote and how to tell people the way in which to vote. Members of the Fire Department understand that the best thing they can do is to obey orders and they are obeying them.

At present Ruef owns two police commissioners and may control a third. Should things shape themselves so that he will retain his power for two years more, he can make $1,000,000 in fees from saloonmen alone.

Now what do you think of that?

This fight for the Mayoralty is certainly a wonderful affair. I do not remember of there ever being so much money spent for banners and electric signs. Where the candidates are getting the money, outside of Crocker and one or two others, is a mystery. But that the money is being spent is an absolute certainty.

The freak feature of this campaign is the absence of the old-time saloon canvass. Two years ago at this time the saloons of San Francisco were packed until the small hours of the morning with the candidates and the friends and managers of candidates, assembled to purchase grog for the purpose of securing votes. But now you can go into any saloon in town at 12 o'clock and find it deserted save for some unfortunate on the fringe of the tenderloin who for the moment are annexed to the free lunch counter.

The candidates are fighting their battles in a thorough business-like manner. Instead of the corner grocery and back alley groggery, they are going to the big business houses, to the workshops of the corporations, to the centers of industry, and personally appealing to the workmen for their suffrages.

I was talking with one man who is making a fight for a candidate for Supervisor and he told me that he would not give a fig for the votes he could get in the saloons. What he is doing was going to the foundries, gas houses, to the big buildings, lumber yards, mills and all such places personally and asking people to vote for his man. It is hard work but he thinks it will be effective on election day.

I met Dr. E. H. Woolsey the other day and he told me that he had just sent his horse Eakins to the pond yard to be shot and had given a man $5 to send this once famous animal on the way to the glue factory.

As a yearling Eakins was purchased by Dave Gideon for $10,000.

He was supposed to be a coming horse in those days and when he first took the track in quest of a purse there was all sorts of money but on him, much to the sorrow of the betters. Eakins suffered from nervousness and some said from cowardice.

Dr. Woolsey finally purchased him, broke him to harness and made a fairly good animal of him, but every once in a while Eakins would go to pieces. Finally he simply became a source of expense, so the Doctor decided to put him out of the way.

Eakins was named after Joe Eakins, who is now Managing Editor of the New York Evening World. Joe Eakins was one of the best known racing reporters in America before he was elevated to the dignity of Managing Editor.

Were you ever bamboozed? If you were not, you are very lucky. Governor Taft, of the Philippines, has been bamboozed, they say, and a number of high officials in our new possessions have received the treatment frequently, with fatal effect.

Bamboozing is the finest form of torture that has been thus far concocted by the fiendish Filipino. It is usually administered to unpopular masters by disgruntled native servants. Here is the way it is worked.

They grind bamboo up into a powder as fine as flour. Each day a little of this powder is sprinkled over the food to be served to the victim. Of course this ground bamboo does not digest. At the end of three or four weeks there is a large deposit of the stuff within the victim. An operation for appendicitis as a rule follows. Very few people in the Islands recover from these operations.

Very few people are aware of the fact that General Nelson A. Miles is a firm believer in palmistry. While here with the Grand Army the General went with a friend to have the tale told by the lines of his hand related to him. The lady who examined the General's palm told him some very interesting stuff, most of which, according to the General, bordered on the truth. The lady tried to get the story into the newspapers, but the friends of the General finally stopped its publication on the ground that it might cause many people to think the great soldier was in his dotage.

General Nelson A. Miles became a firm believer in palmistry after a meeting with Chiero. That wonderful little reader of the palms left London a couple of years ago for a flying trip to Washington. While there he read the hands of the various legations and almost everybody that was nearly anybody in Washington. A remarkable thing about Chiero is that most people who meet him, and, in fact the world in general, lists him as a Persian or a Far Easterner of some sort. They are mistaken, however, as General Miles, who became intimately acquainted with him, told me quietly that Chiero was a native of the Emerald Isle, having been born on the west coast of Ireland. He finds it more profitable, however, to make people think he comes from one of the tribes of Egypt or India or any old place other than the bogs of Ireland.

I heard an awfully good story the other night on one of the most prominent merchants of San Francisco, who has recently remodeled his store. This merchant makes a specialty of catering to the exclusive female trade. One of his best customers, Mrs. Sherman, sent him a beautiful floral piece as a decorative compliment in honor of the remodeling of the store. With her daughter, Mrs. Dana, she called at the merchant's place of business in order to be present when the floral piece arrived. She reached the store about three minutes previous to the coming of the messenger boy, weighted down with the heap of blossoms.

As the boy entered the store the merchant turned to one of his help, saying:

"I wonder who sent this trash."

You can guess how the lady and her daughter felt.

But that wasn't all.

The merchant had no sooner finished his comment than one of the young ladies behind the counter butted in with:

"It looks like south of Market."

Then you should have heard Mrs. Sherman and her daughter cut loose.

Mark Anthony's oration over the dead Caesar was a poor, weak, bloodless, purple, anaemic affair along side of that tirade. They didn't do a thing with the south of Market street text and as they left the store they demanded their bill.

Then, as a climax, a few minutes later, a messenger boy arrived at the store with a card bearing this brief inscription:

"PLEASE RETURN TO THE BEARER THE SOUTH OF MARKET TRASH."

I guess that was bad.

BIG TEMPLE IS DEDICATED.

MANY PEOPLE WITNESS SERVICE
OVER ST. LOUIS NEW HALL.

ST. LOUIS, Missouri, Oct. 24.—A dedication service of the greatest magnitude since the dedication of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition itself, was conducted on the Exposition grounds this morning in the dedication of the temple of fraternity, a building of immense proportions in which conventions and meetings of fraternal organizations will be held. The style of erection of the structure is an adaptation of the Parthenon at Athens, and contains 50 committee rooms, a large room and an open court in the center.

At 11:30 o'clock the ceremony began with a parade to the fair grounds in which scores of different national fraternal organizations were represented. When the procession had reached the fair grounds the long line was augmented by the processions of women's auxiliary branches of the organizations and the line of march was then direct to the temple of Fraternity. Thousands of people surrounded the building, as since daylight the trains have been pouring streams of visitors into the city.

President D. R. Francis of the World's Fair delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by President Noah M. Given, of the Fraternal Building Association. The flag of the fair was then unfurled above the building by Mrs. J. W. Frankel, secretary of the auxiliary board of lady managers, the ceremony being conducted by C. F. Hatfield, secretary of the board of directors of the World's Fair Fraternal Building Association.

Speeches followed from Lee W. Squires, president of the Associated Thelornies of America; Mrs. G. L. Miller, president of the auxiliary board of lady managers; E. O. Wood, president of the national fraternal congress, and Lieutenant Governor W. A. Northcott, of Illinois.

CASE THROWN OUT OF COURT.
FRUITVALE, October 24.—The trial of E. L. Blackman on the charge of assaulting Edward Lang with a deadly weapon came up in Justice Gaury's court in East Oakland yesterday. After listening to the testimony of witnesses the Justice threw the case out of court, saying that Blackman was only protecting his own home when he assaulted Lang.

Blackman had been renting a coal yard and warehouse of Lang at East Fourteenth street and California Railway crossing in Fruitvale. On October 1 his lease expired. Lang wanted the tenant to move out at once, as he himself intended to start in business there. Blackman's new establishment across the street was not quite completed so he delayed somewhat in vacating the old premises. In the evening Lang went to Blackman's house to demand the keys of the warehouse. The latter came out on the porch, and after a few angry words between the two, hit Lang a blow on the eyes with a piece of gaspipe, knocking him off the veranda. The latter was rendered unconscious and laid up for several days.

PREACHER DOWIE DENIES REPORT THAT HE WILL SAIL FOR EUROPE.

BOSTON, October 24.—John Alexander Dowie, his wife and son, Gladstone Dowie, arrived here early today in the private car Iolanthe.

New York, Hartford and New Haven officials said that the special was scheduled to return to New York today.

The Dowie party breakfasted in their car and Mr. Dowie, accompanied by his wife and son, appeared on the platform attired for the street. Replying to questions, Dowie said that he had come to Boston with Mrs. Dowie and his son to see them safely on board the vessel in which they were to sail for England on their way to Australia. He said he would be here but a short time, as he intended to start back to New York as soon as they sailed. At this point he was told of a report that had been published that he intended to sail with his wife, abandoning his cause. Dowie declared with great positiveness that the report was absolutely false; that he had no intention of sailing for England, and that he should return to take up his work in New York, starting this afternoon.

M., thirty miles south of Albuquerque, and run east to Texas, Tex., where connection will be made with the Santa Fe system operated south from Kansas City.

When this line is completed the portion of the road from La Junta, Colo., to Albuquerque will be abandoned for overland purposes, thus cutting off 250 miles. The high grade on the new cut-off will be sixty-six feet to the mile and that only for a short distance. On the overland route the altitude of the grade is 500 feet at Belton and 700 at Alameda.

Henry Crocker's Stock Is Now Booming in San Francisco

San Francisco

LETTER

Both Schmitz and Lane Are Making a Very Hard Fight

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, October 24.—Crocker stock is booming. The developments of the week are to his credit, and although his friends are a long way from justified in claiming that it is "all over but the shouting," it cannot be gainsaid that he is steadily growing stronger.

The hard work being done in his behalf accounts a good deal for this. In addition to his personal campaign committee, headed by Congressman Julius Kahn, the special committee appointed by the United Republican League is doing a great deal of good. Arthur Fisk, its chairman, being at the Geary street parlor continuously day and night.

A hitherto untold story furnishes a good illustration of the energetic work being accomplished by the League Committee. The day preceding the time limit for filing petitions for a place upon the ticket Fisk was informed of the vigorous effort Martin Kelly was making to get up a non-partisan movement, with Lane as its nominee. Knowing the subtleties of Kelly, Fisk went out and interviewed Registrar Walsh on the subject and was informed by him that Kelly had failed to get the necessary number of signatures to his petition.

This satisfied Fisk and he returned to the league headquarters feeling that danger was out of the way. About 11 o'clock that night, though, the subject came up in his mind again and realizing that it was well not to take any chances, he called up the Registrar's office on the phone and asked if anything more had been heard of the petition. He was amazed when in reply he was told that it had turned up again, this time with the necessary total of signatures to secure for it a place upon the ballot.

Summoning a hack, Fisk hastily proceeded to the City Hall with a couple of friends. Upon arrival they at once set to work to check up the petition and in the first district they overhauled they found the names of ten individuals who were either dead or had moved away. Fisk then protested the petition on the ground that it was fraudulent and demanded that the alleged non-partisan nominees be not placed upon the ballot. Registrar Walsh was inclined to stay with the petition, though, and accord it a place. The fact that Kelly had been smart enough to head his ticket with Lane gave the cue to friends of the Democratic nominee to make a fight for it against the appeals of Fisk, and as the dispute wore on and it became evident that the Registrar was going to accept it, Fisk decided to recourse to heroic tactics.

As the non-partisan nomination of Lane would hurt Schmitz fully as much as Crocker, he went in a carriage to the homes of Commissioners Boyle and Everett. Although it was past midnight his arguments induced them to accompany him in the hack, and he then set forth to get the necessary third commissioner to complete a quorum. It was nearing 3 o'clock in the morning when he rang vigorously at the doorbell of Commissioner Vooranger, who, as soon as the situation was explained to him, dressed and accompanied Fisk to the City Hall.

Then, with the three election officials present, Fisk formally made his protest to the Kelly petition and proved that many of the signatures were illegal and irregular. The upshot was that the non-partisan petition was thrown out and Lane's name kept off the ticket in that regard. It was daybreak before Fisk's labors were over, but he was well satisfied in view of the great piece of work he had accomplished.

A SPICY STRUGGLE.

That being the last opportunity to attempt any trickery as regards presenting the issue to the people, the campaign has since been proceeding upon regulation lines. In many ways the fight is the most interesting ever held in San Francisco, for a victory for Schmitz will mean an absolute victory for unionism and will establish definitely the local political power of labor. It is a knowledge of this that is making the non-unionists so anxious to down the Mayor, and as there is a general desire upon their part to concentrate their strength upon one of the other two candidates rather than divide it between them, the fight that is being waged in that quarter is as to which is the stronger—Crocker or Lane.

According to the betting this feature of the situation is no longer in doubt, for Crocker is a hot favorite at even money, while odds of three to one are freely offered against Lane. Schmitz is second choice, six to five being offered against his chances.

An interesting feature of the betting is the place odds, that is to say, as to whether the individual named comes first or second, the person making the wager winning in either instance. Along this line of speculation Crocker is quoted at one to four, Schmitz at two to five and Lane at three to five.

Inquiry develops that no large sums have been bet to date. Henry Ach was fortunate enough to get a bet of $700 to $1500 against Crocker and is anxious to repeat the dose. Most of the money bet to date at the sporting resorts has been placed on Schmitz, although the book-makers say that if they want to lay six to five against Crocker they can get in quite a lot of money. There is evidently a disposition on the part of those who tempt fortune to wait for better odds, and they are certainly entitled to them, for even money on Crocker is not a good proposition in so hard-fought a three-cornered contest as the municipal struggle is furnishing.

WANT A WINNER.

One benefit that Crocker will derive from being so pronounced a favorite in the betting is the creation of the impression that he is far stronger than Lane. If this could be satisfactorily established and hammered into the people all over town, there is no doubt that it would mean thousands of votes for Crocker that are now on the fence.

What the "silent vote" is figuring on is the relative strength of Crocker and Lane, and this is apparent when efforts are made to secure expressions of opinion from non-political business men. When interviewed, they almost invariably refuse to express their preferences as between the Republican and Democratic nominees, though they are outspoken in their determination to defat Schmitz, if possible. This proves that as between Crocker and Lane, the one that appears to be the strongest or election day will get the support, and the candidates in question are therefore catering to this element in every way possible.

Apart from being declared the strong candidate by the betting bookometer, there is another good reason why Crocker can figure upon this conservative support. While he is saying and doing nothing to antagonize the workingmen, for the reason that many of them are loyal Republicans, he is nevertheless not catering in any way to the union vote.

Lane, on the contrary, is appealing to the wage-earners fully as ardently as to the property-owners. His prompt denial that he advised Mayor Phelan to place policemen on the trucks during the teamsters' strike, was a sop thrown out to the union vote, and while it may have done some good there, it had exactly the contrary effect in the other quarter. For the business men quickly noted how he disavowed having advised the protection of property.

As a matter of fact, it is self-evident that Lane is trying to perform the old trick of carrying water upon both shoulders and with no better success than has attended others in the past. He is reaching out a hand to the workingmen and telling them that he is their friend as against the capitalists, while at the same time he is endeavoring to convince the property-owners that it is to their interests to vote for him, because he is "safe and conservative."

THE SCHMITZ END.

Meanwhile, Schmitz has taken on an added spurt and during the past seven days has undoubtedly regained some of the ground he appeared to have lost during the preceding week. According to Ruef, he will be an easy winner by anywhere from 2000 to 3000 votes, and the arguments that are presented sound convincing enough in the absence of any effects from the opposing camps.

For example, Ruef tells how a straw vote taken along the water front the other day, gave Schmitz the astounding total of 305 out of 323—this, however, being in almost a strictly labor sphere.

Then there are all sorts of stories about how ten passersby were questioned on Kearny street, with the result that eight declared for Schmitz, one for Lane and one non-committal—of how a $20 wager was made one night this week regarding the attitude of the first twenty men who passed the corner of Powell and Market, sixteen of them declaring for Schmitz and so on.

Apart from all this sort of thing, Ruef raises the point that Schmitz is stronger than he was when he won two years ago. At that time, Ruef says, the union forces were not properly organized, it being the first election in which they had participated as an organization. Since then, though, thousands have been brought into the unions and despite all that is said to the contrary on behalf of Lane, Ruef declares that the unions are going to vote almost solidly for Schmitz this year, for the reason that to do so means to prove the strength of their organizations, whereas, if they fail to make a big showing, capital will say that they are far weaker than they have been claiming, and hence will be inclined to belittle their appeals as to wages and other betterments.

Furthermore, Ruef places much stress upon the gains that will come through the police and fire departments and other such acquisitions resulting from the operation of the municipal machine. Figuring all his forces together, he cannot see how Schmitz can lose and the best proof that he really thinks this and is not saying it for mere effect, is shown in the large sums he is personally putting into the Mayor's campaign.

CHINESE MISSION, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

The above is a typical Chinese mission scene in Brooklyn, where Celestials are petted and taught by society women. Interesting revelations are expected at the forthcoming trial of accused Chinamen.

SEVER UNHAPPY COUPLES.

JUDGES GRANT THE PLEAS OF MISMATED HUSBANDS AND WIVES.

Gertude H. Dolan was granted a divorce this morning by Judge Greene from James M. Dolan upon the grounds of wilful neglect. She was also allowed to resume her maiden name of Gertude Hamilton.

Ada Gilmore, a resident of Alameda, has been given a divorce from Harry J. Gilmore on the grounds of desertion. They were married in 1899 and a year later she alleges that he left her.

Suit for divorce was begun today by Bert N. Landon, a railway employe of the Santa Fe, against his wife, Mary Landon. He alleges that she is guilty of causing him mental cruelty in her behavior with other men. They were married in 1898 and have two children, which, he alleges, she is not fit to have the custody of.

Catherine F. Hinkley was granted a divorce today by Judge Ogden from George C. Hinkley on the grounds of failure to provide. They were married in this city in 1899. She was formerly Catherine Andrews.

John A. Borge was granted a divorce today from Lura Borge on the grounds of desertion by Judge Ogden. They were married in Santa Barbara in 1897.

PLAN TO UNITE METHODIST SCHOOL.

CHICAGO, October 24.—A plan whereby all, or nearly all, of the Methodist educational institutions in the country may be united under one general supervising body of directors, with Northwestern University as the head and front, has been disclosed by President Edmund James James of Northwestern.

As evidence that the smallest institutions are ready for such a union, President James declares that already two colleges have asked to be taken under the protection and management of Northwestern University, while the university has already annexed two preparatory schools—the Elgin Academy and the Grand Prairie Seminary of Oregon.

"It is a clearly manifest fact," said President James early last night, "that if denominational institutions are to do their best work they must work in unity. There must be harmony between the different institutions—a harmony which will permit of one general management."

President James then went into the details of the plan, concluding with the statement that all of the affiliated institutions would be known as the "Northwestern."

His estimate is that there will be thirty such.

The tailor-made skirts, except for sporting purposes, only just clear the ground all round, whereas once again the smart gowns will be worn longer and fuller than ever.

SPIRIT PAINTINGS WILL BE SHOWN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Ann Odelle Dine De Bar's spirit paintings are to be shown at last to the public. They were the most dearly sold, the most widely talked of, the least known paintings of the Nineteenth Century.

From them Luther R. Marsh, an old lawyer, well educated and refined in taste, founder of the Union League Club and one of its vice-presidents, gave a fortune, the deed of his house and his reputation as an art collector.

Mr. Marsh's son and one of Mr. Marsh's partners in the legal firm of Marsh, Wilson & Wallace, with several police men, raided his house in June, 1898. They arrested Ann Odelle Dine De Bar and her husband, who lived there and seized the paintings.

They were placed in cellars at police headquarters and kept there until a year ago. The trial of the Dine De Bars is a celebrated case of New York courts. The woman was convicted of fraud. The value of the paintings was not verified by experts. The paintings remained unknown.

Mr. Marsh said that he had seen them come to the canvasses under Dine De Bar's invocation of Rembrandt, Van Dyck, Guido Reni and others.

Ann Odelle Dine De Bar is in prison in England for fraud. The Dine De Bar that was known as her husband here has vanished.

The paintings are to be shown at the Fifth Avenue Art Gallery on Monday and are to be sold there by auction later.

MIND COMES BACK QUICKLY.

PHYSICIAN REGAINS ANITY AFTER MANY MONTHS OF BLANKNESS.

SOUTHWOOD, N. J., October 24.—As suddenly as he disappeared last April, wandering, demented, his mind a blank, all over the country, Dr. Henry H. Cate, the proprietor of a sanitarium here has recovered his memory. It all came back to him while he was reading a medical book in a sanitarium in Southwood, N. J., where he had been kept several weeks ago. Dropping the book he started up and exclaimed: "I have been a physician and had a sanitarium at Lakewood." Dr. Cate then described what had occurred from the time he left Lakewood on a visit to New York where he registered at the Hotel Albert. The day after his arrival he went out for a walk and did not return. His empty pocket book was found early the next morning under a pile of lumber. It was said the pocket book had contained $2000. There was nothing but the physician's cards and the return ticket to Lakewood in the pocket book. Although his friends had a general alarm sent out for him all over the country no word of his whereabouts was received until he was discovered by his brother-in-law, in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. It was said he had visited Norfolk, St. Louis, and Kansas City in the course of his wandering.

MAN AND WIFE SHOT BY ASSASSIN.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Richard E. Evans, a farmer and his wife who lived a mile and a half from Dingman's Ferry, Pennsylvania, have been shot as they sat at a window of their home and both are expected to die. The neighborhood is being scoured for the assassin, but no clue to his identity or the motive of the shooting has been obtained.

All that is known is that while the farmer and his wife were sitting near a window, after they had had their supper, the shots were fired from a gun loaded with buckshot. Mr. Evans was struck in the head and arms by the charge. Mrs. Evans received almost the entire charge fired at her.

The assassin must have lost no time in making his escape, for it was only a short time before searching parties were organized and hunting the country for miles around.

"L" CARS JUMP TRACK AND BURN.

NEW YORK, October 24.—A train composed of two cars on the Kings County Elevated Structure, at the Brooklyn end of the bridge, jumped the track at the curve at 11:45 last night, narrowly escaping falling into the street, caught fire from the third rail and was partly consumed with the flooring of the structure. Fifty passengers were bruised by the jolt and thrown into a panic by the blaze and all rushed to the tracks regardless of the deadly third rail, and escaped. The two cars, both motors, were crowded. They started on signal, forging ahead with more speed than is considered safe and immediately left the track on a curve within ten feet of the platform, and crashed into a bumper outside the curve. Passengers were thrown from their seats and windows broken. As the cars came to a standstill, a loud report resounded, and others like musketry followed. Simultaneously a sheet of flame shot into the air, a shower of sparks, mingled with tongues of blue fire played around the cars, setting fire to the flooring and sides and igniting the elevated structure.

The imprisoned passengers shrieked in horror and madly rushed to the rear door which was closed. In a twinkling the door was shattered and men and women poured out upon the platform and swarmed down upon the roadbed, oblivious of the fact that they lay in the path of the third rail. Luckily none of the frightened passengers touched it and all escaped to the station platform. Meanwhile the flames communicated by the third rail ran along the side of the cars, and the fire engines were called out and eventually extinguished the flames.

DOWIE LEAVES FOR BOSTON SECRETLY.

NEW YORK, October 24.—The Times is authority for the statement that, guarding his movements with all possible secrecy, John Alexander Dowie, "Elijah the Restorer," left New York at midnight for Boston, carrying all his family and baggage with him in his private car. He absolutely declined to indicate any way when he will return to this city and the information obtained was that he intends to sail with his family for Australia. It was impossible to ascertain last night whether any provision had been made for the members of the Zion restoration host now at Madison Square Garden, either for the return to Zion City or for their maintenance while here. Upon arriving at the station Dowie and his family made for the private car. Dowie, which was in the yard, but before reaching it he was approached by a press representative and asked when he would return to New York. "Peace be to thee," was his only reply.

"Yes, I understand that, but when are you coming back?" was urged. "Get out of the road," yelled the son, as he hurried his father into the car, quickly following with Mrs. Dowie. As soon as Dowie and his family were in the car the curtains were pulled down and every attempt made to prevent disturbance or interference. There was no demonstration of any sort about the station and the only persons gathered outside of the few members of the host, were travelers who were waiting for trains and who showed a lively interest in the affair.

WILL HAVE ELECTRIC CARS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The New York Central Railroad is planning to establish electric roads as suburban branches in the central and western part of this State in order to save the local traffic which has been cut into heavily by the independent trolley lines. The policy, which the Central adopted two years ago for meeting competition, by reducing fares and increasing the number of trains, has proved ineffective.

A section of the Rome Watertown and Ogdensburg Railroad, which is leased to the New York Central, is to be equipped with electricity it is claimed and New York Central trolley cars can be run to and from all points along the southern shore of Lake Ontario. This project will possibly also absorb the extensive Rochester and Suburban Electric lines.

WILL ESTABLISH NEW CLUB.

VANDERBILT ESTATE IN NORTH CAROLINA FOR HUNTING AND FISHING.

NEW YORK, October 24.—A large portion of George W. Vanderbilt's vast estate in the wilds of North Carolina, known as Biltmore, is about to be converted into an exclusive hunting and fishing club, which will include in its membership some of the most prominent clubmen of the land.

A proposition has recently been submitted to Edgar E. Moore of Kenilworth, N. C., whereby if present plans are carried out, 130,000 acres of the Biltmore estate will be used as a hunting and fishing ground by the Biltmore does not include the 10,000 acres immediately surrounding the private mansion of Mr. Vanderbilt.

The waters of Biltmore are well supplied with fish. In the forest many quail may be found and wild turkey, pheasants, deer and even black bear roam.

A feature of the new club now being formed by Mr. Moore will be a number of lodges and camps which will be provided for the use of members throughout the various sections of the forest.

"I expect to organize a sportsman's club of from 75 to 100 members," said Mr. Moore, "and the club will include in its membership some of the most prominent clubmen in the country, devotees of the rod and gun."

The government has issued a prosecution against him under a section of the Penal Code which provides banishment for any one exposing Frenchmen to reprisals from foreigners by acts that are not approved by the government.

BANISHED FROM FRANCE.

NEW YORK, October 24.—Jacques Lohauy, the self-styled Emperor of Sahara, according to a Paris dispatch to the Herald, was banished from France as the result of a recent visit of his yacht Frigate to the Moroccan coast.

The government has issued a prosecution against him under a section of the Penal Code which provides banishment for any one exposing Frenchmen to reprisals from foreigners by acts that are not approved by the government.

FRATERNITY MEN TO BE PUT THROUGH PAGES. SOPHOMOPH'S PLANS FAILED. ESTABLISHED A MAY PLAY A GAME WITH EASTERN TEAM.

Date Has Been Set for the Annual Running of the Skull and Keys Society.

BERKELEY, October 24.—The University of California will be treated to an amusing spectacle on the last Friday of this month which has been set as the time for the annual running of the Skull and Keys society. According to the program that has been arranged by the upper classes, the neophytes are to be put through an unusually ludicrous initiation this year.

In the morning the cadets for admission into the exclusive interfraternity organization will be compelled to appear on the campus, no matter what the condition of the weather may be, attired in dress coats and duck trousers. As in former years, they will be compelled to escort the co-eds about the campus when not engaged in playing marbles, tops, or flying kites.

In the afternoon, during the progress of the football practice, they will be compelled to render a ludicrous program for the benefit of the collegians assembled on the bleachers. Attired in costumes to represent various celebrities, they will be required to extol their attainments to the audience assembled on the bleachers.

The annual running of the Skull and Keys is always one of the society's events of the college year and never fails to attract large crowds from both sides of the bay.

FRESHMEN CONDUCT THEIR DANCE WITHOUT A NOYANCE.

BERKELEY, October 24.—A committee of Sophomores made ineffectual attempts to interfere with the dance of the Freshmen in Harmon Gymnasium last night. Not only did the scheme to divert the musicians, by means of a fake countermarching order fail through, but a bribe failed to serve its purpose as well.

Several of the second-year men loitered about the gymnasium, but nothing was done for fear of the consequences that might result if they were apprehended.

The committee in charge of the dance, which was a great social success, consisted of the following:

Arrangements committee—K. C. Hamilton, F. D. Caminetti, C. C. Kern, C. F. Sherman, J. R. Gabbert, A. D. Wilder, E. S. Crane, R. H. Van Sant, Z. Hartley, Misses E. C. ### SILK WEAVER GOES INSANE.

NEW YORK, October 24.—Frank Grundman, 58 years of age, a silk weaver of Paterson, N. J., has been placed in the insane ward at Bellevue Hospital.

Grundman had a beautiful garden of rare flower plants and a valuable collection of birds, including several Japanese pheasants. When the flood swept through the heart of Paterson recently Grundman's home was wrecked and his plants and birds destroyed. He had much difficulty in rescuing his wife. After getting her to safety he made efforts to save his plants and birds but without success. The order he went through and the loss of the birds and plants he prized so highly, preyed upon his mind until he gave up. He became so violent it was necessary to put him in a straight jacket. He grabbed three or four men by the throat and nearly choked him to death.

NEW WAY TO SUICIDE.

NEW YORK, October 24.—The London Lancet says the Herald's London correspondent reports that a nurse at one of the French hospitals has just tried a new way of committing suicide, viz., by swallowing two tubes of cholera pure culture of typhoid bacillus. On the third day the nurse had a headache, but no fever. Several rose spots were visible on the eighth day.

The short duration of the period of incubation is explained by the large number of bacilli introduced at one time. It proved to be a very severe attack of typhoid fever, but apparently not fatal.

GOLDEN GATE, October 24.—Tomorrow night in the Methodist Church Rev. Everett M. Hill will deliver the third of his "Success Sermos" series, entitled, "When Fortune Smiles, or the One Way to Wealth." These practical sermons have attracted much attention and have been well attended. While the idea of the sermon being re-established is not related by the majority of the residents of Golden Gate, they feel a sense of protection in the fact that the applicant's bonds were approved. The report of its proposed reopening has caused little or no comment.

SHOWS GOOD RESISTANCE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The stock market has shown good resistance this week to the depressing influence of the trust company and bank failures in Baltimore and Pittsburg. This has caused the hope that necessities and food liquidation in the stock market has been completed, although the belief is general that further contraction and reaction are to be looked for in business and industrial. The effect of accumulation of reserves following liquidation of securities has been seen in the growing ease of the money market and the growth of an investment demand by railroad bonds.

University of California Veterans Are Anxious to Meet One of the Big Teams.

BERKELEY, October 24.—Although the big intercollegiate game is yet to be played, there is considerable talk in football circles regarding the feasibility of bringing an Eastern team to this coast this season for games at San Francisco and Los Angeles and Pasadena or some other Southern California city.

It is probable that negotiations will be opened shortly with Princeton, Harvard, Yale or Pennsylvania, and should these fall through, efforts will be made to some Middle West team such as Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin or Chicago.

The University of California team will be strong on the offensive this year, making it impossible for any eleven from the East to roll up a very large score, especially after a long ride across the continent.

Several of the veterans on this year's Varsity, who will play their last game against the Cardinal this year, on account of the four-year rule, are particularly anxious for a game with an Eastern team. Those who stand in this category are Hudson, Overall, More, Stow, and Almi. It is being argued by those in favor of bringing out an Eastern team, that it would mean the importation of the newest ideas in football. Since the University of California abandoned the Eastern coach system, the players and local coaches have been thrown entirely on their own resources. The last game with an Eastern team was with the Carleton Indians in 1899.

The Varsity is now including in secret practice every afternoon in the gymnasium.

Quarter back Beh up, who tore the ligaments from his left shoulder during a scrimmage, is out again and may join in the practice next week.

Stein is laid up again with new damage inflicted to his knee.

are conducting the saloons have been profiting by it are matters that are to be gone into.

AFTER THE SALOONS.

The attention of the District Attorney has been called to the fact that there are saloons running in his county that are not legally licensed. The matter is also to be brought to the attention of the Board of Supervisors and it is expected that a number of constables, whose duty it is to see to the proper enforcement of the law in this respect will be called upon to explain. Whether it is a matter of oversight or of criminal neglect on the part of some of these officials is a matter that is to be sifted to the bottom. During the investigation of the last Grand Jury it found that there was considerable laxity in the way the affairs of the county were being cared for by some of the constables of the various townships.

The matter of saloon licenses however was not touched upon at the time. Just how far this matter has gone and whether any but those who

THE BLIND JUGGLER.

Supply the missing words by objects illustrating them in the picture; also, find five of the people who came to see the blind juggler perform.

Once upon a time there was a Japanese astrologer who became so famous that persons came from all over the world to learn of their future. One day there came a black ----- of Ethiopia who was as wicked as she was black. She was getting old and she feared lest some calamity would befall her for her evil deeds, so she came to learn what fate held in store for her. Taking up his -----, the astrologer told her that a terrible retribution awaited her for her wickedness. The doom pronounced enraged her terribly, and looking about she saw the astrologer's little son playing in the garden outside. Haughtily she left his presence, and as she swept past the beautiful boy in the garden she sprinkled a white powder over him and he became stone blind from that moment. The poor little fellow being no longer able to enjoy the beauty of the ----- and sunlight which he loved so dearly, passed his time at his father's side. One day while he was thus sitting there came a strange-looking man from the Far West. His copper-colored ----- was streaked with paint and his ----- decorated with long ----- He wore garments made of the skin of wild beasts, while on his feet were moccasins trimmed with colored beads. Over his shoulders was thrown a -----, and suspended from his neck was a curious looking pouch. There he stood in majestic silence.

"Son, what would you know?" the astrologer asked. Replied, he said: "Sir, I am a medicine man of the great Sioux tribe. In my native land my people were great warriors, and for thousands of moons hunted the wild game of the forest, protected their homes, and with their families dwell in peace and happiness. Today they are outcasts and wanderers, driven like dogs by a hated race of pale faces. They have taken our hunting grounds, killed our people and driven us to barren desolate lands till now we are a very burden to the land which we once ruled. How long, oh, sage, must we suffer?" "My brother," the astrologer replied, "all things are for the best. Go back to thy wigwam and teach thy people to fashion their weapons of war into implements of peace, for the Great Spirit hath taught us that all men are brothers and peace ruleth all. Bow submissively to His will and peace will follow thee and thy people."

The Sioux, comforted, turned and left his presence, and as he passed out he was followed by the blind child, who seized his -----, saying: "Oh! mighty Sioux, by the sorcery of a wicked Ethiopian ----- I was made blind. My heart in sympathy goes out to thee and thy people in their sorrow, but there is no sorrow like the darkness of the blind." The Sioux's heart was touched, and drawing from his pouch some herbs, he rubbed them on the child's eyes, and lo! his sight returned. Then the Sioux told him that his sight would remain only so long as he kept secret the fact that it had been restored, and thus no one save the Sioux ever knew that the child could see.

In the course of time the lad followed the art of juggling. Great numbers of people came and marveled at the performances of what they supposed to be a blind juggler, and for fear of his blindness returning, he dared not undeceive them. And so fate decreed that he should become both rich and famous.

NATURE'S OWN CURE

Hyomei Cures Catarrh Without Dangerous Drugging of the Stomach.

Not until Hyomei was discovered has it been possible to truthfully say that a remedy for catarrh was known. This remedy is breathed through the Hyomei inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and during that time every particle of air taken into the air passages and lungs is impregnated with the germ killing and health giving Hyomei. It is the only treatment that cures catarrh.

Stomach drugging often causes disordered digestion or brings on some other disease and never makes a permanent cure of catarrh. Hyomei not only kills the germs in the throat and nose but penetrates to the minute air cells in the lungs and enters the blood with the oxygen killing the germs in the blood. It frees the mucous membrane from poisonous microbes and gives perfect health.

A complete outfit costs but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.

Osgood Brothers have so much faith in the merit of Hyomei that they agree to return the money to any purchaser who may be dissatisfied.

The first day's use of Hyomei will show a decided improvement and in a short time there will be no further trouble from catarrh. Its action is rapid and lasting.

You take no risk in buying Hyomei. A complete outfit costs $1.00, and if after using you can say that it has not helped you Osgood Brothers will return your money. What other guarantee for catarrh is sold under guarantee like this?

TO ALL CATARRH SUFFERERS

Hyomei Guaranteed to Cure by Osgood Bros., or Money Refunded.

The popularity and increase in the sales of Hyomei are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing cures have been made by this remarkable remedy that the proprietors have authorized Osgood Brothers to sell every package of Hyomei under an absolute guarantee that it will cure catarrh. If it does not the purchaser can have his money refunded by Osgood Brothers.

Hyomei is no ordinary remedy. It is the only method of treatment that sends direct inhalation to the most remote part of the air passages, a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and makes permanent and complete cures of catarrh.

A bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Breathe through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day and your catarrh is cured. That's all. If not cured Osgood Bros. will refund your money.

NOTES FROM THE PULPIT AND PEW.

INTERESTING SERMONS ARE ANNOUNCED FOR TO-MORROW.

"The Roman Catholic church is today as strong throughout New England," says the Boston Watchman, "that many people find it difficult to believe that the centennial celebration of last week was that of the first Roman Catholic church consecrated in Boston. The surprising growth of Romanism in New England has all taken place within a hundred years. Of course the remarkable increase in the adherents of this community is due almost entirely to immigration. The potato famine of 146 brought to an enormous immigration to America, of which New England received its full share. The Irishman is like some plants that do not thrive unless they are transplanted. Driven by famine to New England the Irishman developed his best qualities, and he would not have been an Irishman if he had not brought his religion with him. In that respect he does not resemble the typical Protestant of these days, whose religion will seldom stand the tests of immigration. And since the Irish immigration we have had the Italian, the Polish, and the great French immigration from the north. But still the Irishman is the backbone of the Roman church in New England. We have a strong impression that a large proportion of the immigrants has been of the Irish race, and that today, from a religious point of view, there is no more hopeful or hopeful class of our population than ex-Romanists, who, having abandoned the church of their fathers, have cut themselves free from all religious association."

The Bible of Edwards is very different from the Bible of George Adam Smith or Lyman Abbott. He lived before the day of Bible studies. Now every text and author and date is tested. Men are growing weary of theological discussions, and are returning to the testimony of their souls. They are not interested in what we reject are accepted for what they are worth. We inherit from them the alphabet of faith, for which we should be grateful. By leading druggists everywhere at 11c. per bottle. No more makes them himself than he makes the hat he wears. Men are not returning to Edwards, but rather to a better perspective of what Edwards really believed.—The Pacific.

Prophet Dowie has shifted or is about to shift the theater of his religious activities from Chicago to New York. He has been connected with the work of salvation in Chicago, to judge by the feeble impression which his crusade has made upon the unresponsive Chicagoans. When he comes to New York, he will find a more receptive audience. In his respect, the action of the religious character of the city of our American missionary friends who turn their faces away from their own backsliding brethren at home to spread the light among the heathen in the benighted Papist countries. The underlying motive in both cases is identical. Financial considerations are at the bottom of these singular changes of base. Dowie has apparently "worked out" the Chicago lead, and the American Evangelist and it is easier to raise "sinners" for a campaign in foreign parts, than for the conversion of domestic heathen.—The Monitor.

Merionism is a threatening evil the world over. Just now the good people of Denmark are being aroused to fight it vigorously. The Rev. H. H. Andersen, years president of the Danish Lutheran church in America, has arrived in Denmark to do missionary work against Merionism. The Rev. Andersen has attracted large numbers of Danes to Utah, and have been especially active of recent years in spreading their propaganda. Denmark is a small country, but it is dedicated last year in Copenhagen. The Danish church in America has now sent the Rev. Dr. Andersen to Denmark to "convert" the Merion propaganda. A powerful branch of the Danish state church encouraged him to come, and will co-operate in his work.—New York Observer.

Our observation is that most of our congregations are definitely ignorant of the contents of their hymn-books. We have known of congregations to adopt hymns in a church and yet not use in public worship a single hymn that they were not familiar with when they had the Baptist hymnal or even the old Psalter. They know nothing of the resources of their hymn books, and are content to sing the same old hymns, and perhaps the weekly hymns in the request of the chorists. "Please select hymns that we all know," a few discords on our hymn-book would be enlightening and helpful to many of our congregations.—Boston Watchman.

Natal chaplains are to be abolished in the British navy, according to an agreement reached recently between King Edward and Lord Selborne, the first of the admiralty. The reason given is that so many of the sailors and even the officers, belong to other denominations than the established church of England that it is felt to be unfair to subject them to the spiritual ministrations of an Anglican church.

Gray hair often stand in the way of advancement for both men and women, socially and in business. Many men are failing to secure good positions just because they look too old, and one woman has been disappointed in life because they have failed to preserve that attractiveness which so largely depends on the hair.

A VETERAN'S STORY

ESCAPED WAR'S PERILS AND FELL A VICTIM TO THE GRIP.

The Influenza Left His Blood so Thin That Anemia Resulted—Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

In the employ of the American Bridge Company, at Pittsburg, is a man whose life story is a thrilling one. For three years during the great Civil War he served his country as a member of Company E, Sixty-third Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and then completed his war service in the Seventh Cavalry. The man is Mr. James A. Clowes, of No. 25 Forty-fourth street, Pittsburg, Pa., and he tells in his own way how he escaped a greater danger than he faced on the field of battle. He says:

"An attack of the grip in 1898 left me in a low state of health and in a short time I found that I was a victim of anemia. Any exertion tired me and I would stop beating times. I was nervous and weak, and I could not eat, and there was a constant pain in the small of my back. My kidneys, liver and stomach became affected and I was about as miserable as a man can be."

"One day I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People mentioned in the paper and concluded to see what they would do for me. The first box helped me and seven boxes cured me entirely, making me strong and energetic again and in as good health as before my sickness. My son and his wife and many of my other relatives have also used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with the best results, and we all recommend them on every possible occasion."

"Hundreds of civil war veterans, both Union and Confederate, whose health was broken by hardships in the army, as well as hundreds of others run down by overwork, worry or excesses of some sort, owe their lives and happiness to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, these pills have cured many stubborn cases of nervousness, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, rheumatism, and all forms of weakness, whether in male or female. If you are sick you owe it to yourself to give them a trial. But remember that you cannot try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by mail. You must get them from a dealer, or send postpaid at fifty cents per box, six boxes for two dollars and fifty cents, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y."

BOILERSHOP'S A BUSY PLACE.

GREAT RUSH OF WORK AT WEST OAKLAND RAILROAD YARDS.

Not for many months has the boiler shop at the West Oakland yards been so busy as it is at present. During the month of September five big boxes were turned out, and it is likely that another five will be made during the month of October.

This is a record in its line and Foreman Reicher feels some elation over the fact. Taking the large force of boiler makers now employed hustling to do it.

The local foreman generally expresses surprise at the work done.

ENGINE 1901 RESEMBLES MINIATURE SCRIP PILE.

As she now stands, or lies, engine 1901 is no engine at all, but a conglomeration of wheels, bolts, cylinders, etc. In order to put in a new boiler and repair her frame it was necessary to "take down" the locomotive completely, and it certainly was a thorough job. Many machinists viewed the remains with interest, it being an unusual sight, and a venture that Jefferey would not recognize his old favorite if he saw her, met with general approval.

STRANGE SPECIMENS OF MINERAL ARE FOUND.

Occasionally there is turned up in gravel or coal beds peculiar specimens of mineral, which however popular they might have been in the anediluvian period, are decidedly foreign and unknown to this time.

Yesterday several large pieces of some "unknown" were picked up by Foreman Kolligs, which in their hardness resembled diamonds. In appearance and general character, they were like diamonds.

The "stones" took a high polish when an exterior coating of soft limber substance was chipped off. The mineral will cut glass.

WILL NOT REQUIRE

WHITE VEILING GOWN

These are indeed troublous times for the clothes-ambitious woman, she who would fain be gowned according to Fashion's latest dictates, for the prices asked for the gowns and costumes this autumn are far in advance even of last year. To be sure, the materials used, the trimmings and all the accessories are of the most costly description, so that the assertion that the gown is well worth the money does not seem so absolutely without foundation as is often the case. All the same, to the great majority of women many of this season's costumes would be utterly out of the question.

When $250 is not thought an exorbitant price for a simple street gown, when $700 and $850 for a dinner gown is not thought an impossible sum, it can readily be understood how the dress question is a serious one and that even with the $300 a year allowance credited to Mrs. Roosevelt the problem requires much study and clever calculation.

But when things get so bad there must needs be a rationing, and in truth there never was a time when a woman could look so smartly gowned for so little money. Good taste, time and thought and most careful expenditure will work wonders in these days, when there is such an endless variety of materials to choose from, such an opportunity to study the latest models in dress. All the large shops now import so extensively that no longer are exclusive styles to be worn only at some private tailor's or dressmaker's, but are, so to speak, at the disposal of the general public.

The Winter Wardrobe.

In planning out a winter wardrobe, on what must be economical lines the first thing to be done is to look carefully over what material there is on hand, to see if any one of last season's gowns can be done over, and the expense of such doing over carefully calculated, for often far more money than is realized is spent in "doing over" an old gown that is not worth it. At once should be discarded (given away or sold) all too shabby things. When there is a silk drop skirt in fairly good order, the upper part, the skirt itself, can be discarded and then the silk skirt kept, or with a new blouse or ruffle it can do for another season and will help to save several dollars in the cost of a new costume.

It is almost impossible to manufacture at home, even with the aid of a clever dressstress, a satisfactory cloth costume. The skirt, if there be a tailor who will press it when finished, can be provided there is a good pattern, fairly satisfactory; but the coat requires to be made by some one who has learned the trade, so it is better economy to buy the street gown and have other gowns made at home.

A silk drop skirt is an excellent thing to have, but it does add to the expense, and there are now many good things that make excellent skirts and which require only a silk blouse or ruffle. If the edge of the ruffle is finished with a narrow braid it will wear much longer, but a small plaid ruffling is also good and more effective. In choosing a street costume something inconspicuous in color is the best, and although if black is unbecoming it should not be chosen. It is always very satisfactory and the dark plain effects will always be the most satisfactory, as it is so easy to make them over by merely changing the trimmings, whereas in any mixed designs or those of all colors, splendorous coloring there is no way the second season of so entirely retrimming the costume as to make it look like new.

It is just as easy to make "bricks without straw" as it is to turn out smart looking gowns when the proper tools are not used. There must be a good pattern, materials must be of good quality, the description as required of such things must be good, and if machine work is used then there must be the right kind of needle and thread. All trivial little details, but absolutely requisite if the gown is to be made by professional hands, not amateur. It is perfectly possible in these days to find true bargains in materials, of last year's color and pattern, perhaps, but none the less of good first class quality, which extremely smart clothes can be fashioned. Plaids when checks and stripes are fashionable, checks or stripes when plaids are in favor, blue when purple is popular and so on indefinitely, always remember that there shall be nothing conspicuous and for less than half the original price one can secure most attractive fabrics.

Materials for Limited Purposes.

Veiling, crepe de Chine and silk are three materials of the utmost value to the woman who has a limited allowance for dress. Just the variation of a shade of coloring makes a difference in the cost, and several times in the year there will be sales when the old fashioned colors will be sold at surprisingly low prices. Crepe de Chine makes charming theatre and dinner gowns, is one of the best materials for evening waists, can be used for tea gowns and reception gowns and need not be beyond the reach of even a narrow purse. As the silk gowns have come new trimmings to it, there are opportunities for veiling gowns to be worn, and yet the different seasons make a great difference in the cost of veilings.

A most foolish lot of money is so to be spent in trimmings and lace. One might spend many of them and be no means worth the money asked for them. When it is necessary in remodeling a last season's gown to have some new trimming to it, then the greatest care must be taken to choose something appropriate, and it had best be of good material rather than of gaudy appearance.

The lining must be a good fit, but the material draped over it can, with skilful handling, be so arranged as to cover many a defect, not only of the lining, but the figure itself. Careful finishing is an immense aid to the appearance of a home made gown. Every seam well pressed and bound, hooks and eyes, or buttons, as the case may be, put on firmly and in the right place. No loose ends trusting to a pin to be fastened down, and in short everything thorough will make the simplest of frocks look as though turned out by a professional dressmaker. The belt and collar are most important accessories to a smart gown, and when it is possible there should be two or three with every waist. These, however, must be strongly made and finished, no mere piece of ribbon tied around the waist and neck; in short, it is the attention to detail and every detail that is demanded.

Equally important, if not the most important point of all, is that it is far better to have a limited number of gowns, and each one complete, than a lot of half-way clothes. The temptation to buy recklessly because materials are cheap and one has a knack at dressmaking is to blame for the scores of abominably dressed women to be seen. Better two gowns a season, one for the street and one for the house, than a half dozen of cheap material badly made. It takes a lot of time and labor to keep cheap clothes in order, and half the same time and labor expended on two good gowns will make the wearer thereof get the credit of being always smartly gowned. It is hard to economize, especially for a woman who loves pretty clothes, but it is not impossible, and even less than the oft-quoted $800 will suffice for an exceedingly satisfactory wardrobe if one has the clothes instinct either by birth or education.

Unappreciated.

Little Corina had in her extreme youth been passionately fond of dolls, albeit a trifle destructive of them. There came a day, a "strange, sad day," when saddest and falsest love no longer fascinated her. She demanded a real baby. Her parents protested that the realization of her demand would involve them in financial ruin. "I don't believe real babies are so expensive as you think they are!" exclaimed Corina. "I see every day just lots and lots of 'em, so poor people with them."

Love and the Poets.

Unforneth an arching apple tree I tarried with a lass,
Where the dimple, dance and dapple
Of the shadows on the grass
Told the bright day neared its nooning;
Overhead a thrush was tuning,
And a cuckoo softly crooning,
Till the drowsy hour should pass.
Lovelace, Prior, Praed and Locker—
We had laughed above them all,
Each a merry, masking mocker,
With the god of love at call.
Her divine eyes seemed to show it,
Eyes to gleam it, cheeks to glow it,
Lure of loveliness each poet
Sang with lyric rise and fall.
"After their exalted passion,
How shall I," methought, "speak mine,
I shall fall in sorry fashion
Ere I breathe a single line!"
But Lovelace and Praed supplied me;
Prior and Locker I'd to guide me
So unto the maid beside me
Did I quote a low "Be mine!"
Never was a scheme so sinister;
Ah, the bliss I soon was in!
So I say to any suitor
Who remarks his chance as thin—
Trust not to not ring, nor lock it
Rhyme's your only certain rocket!
Put a poet in your pocket,
And you're mighty sure to win!

Recipes for the Kitchen.

Chestnut Patties.

Shell and blanch one pint of French chestnuts, discarding all nuts that are not sweet and fresh. Cover with boiling water and cook until they are soft. Then drain and mash through a colander. Add one-half cupful of cream, two well-beaten eggs, half a teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth cupful of powdered sugar and a cup and a half of milk. Line little patty pans with a rich paste, fill with a mixture and bake in a quick oven.

Cider Apple Sauce.

Boil one gallon of new sweet cider down to two quarts. Pare, quarter and core half a bushel of sweeter apples. Put the boiled down cider into a granite or porcelain kettle, and when it boils add as many apples as it will hold without crowding. Cover closely and cook slowly without stirring, until the apples are tender. Skin them out without breaking, add more and cook until all are done.

Strain the syrup over the apples and set away to cool. The next day drain off the syrup, boil down until quite thick, and again pour over the apples. The pieces of apple should be quite distinct and the juice the consistency of jelly.

Aunt Minn's Cold Slaw.

Shave the cabbage fine, throwing into ice-water as fast as shredded. Allow it to stand about two hours to crisp, then season to taste with salt, pepper and a wee bit of mustard. For a dressing beat the yolks of two eggs, add two tablespoonfuls of melted butter and beat again. Add a half teaspoonful of thick sour cream, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and half a cupful of vinegar. Beat them three or four minutes, pour on the cabbage and mix.

Pancake Fritters (Miss Corson).

Have ready a kettle of hot fat, some brown paper for absorbing superfluous fat, and powdered sugar for dusting. Soak four biscuits over night in cold water. The next day beat to a pulp, add four well-beaten eggs and whip again, then a teaspoonful of powdered cinnamon, sugar to taste, and add any chopped fruit preferred. Drop the batter by the tablespoonful in hot fat, and fry a golden brown. Take out with skimmer, lay on paper to drain, sift powdered sugar over them while still hot, and eat either hot or cold.
